OF MILLSAPS COLLEGE IN JACKSON, MISSISSIPPI

Let us Discuss your FUTURE

As you approach the end of your days in high school or junior college or count the months until that tour of duty in the armed forces terminates, you will be thinking about the life that lies ahead of you and about how you will use it.

One of the most important decisions affecting your future concerns the choice between additional education and an immediate entry into the workaday world. Should you go to college? If so, which college is the right one for you?

Everyone has known the person who goes to college because "it's the popular thing to do" or the one who is eternally in search of a "good time." Purposeless and poorly motivated, these young men and women, more often than not, are failures early in their college experiences or waste four years and no small amount of money.

If you have decided upon your life work or are seriously searching for the right vocation or more knowledge in a particular field, and if you are prepared to apply yourself as you enjoy one of the most rewarding periods of your life, then you should make every effort to attend college.

Perhaps you have decided, after careful consideration, that you will attend college. If so, the choice now becomes more specific. What college is the best for you?

Millsaps College is a liberal arts college of the Methodist Church. It is fully accredited by all appropriate agencies and is recognized as outstanding among the nation's liberal arts colleges. It is co-educational and offers both professional and pre-professional training. Its students are selected on the basis of ability to think, desire to learn, and good moral character.

Is Millsaps your college? The following pages may give you the answer as you make this important and far-reaching decision.

JACKSON, MISSISSIPPI

. . . There's Timely Tradition

Founded in 1890 by Major R. W. Millsaps, an officer of the Confederacy, Millsaps College has received a rich heritage from the finest of the past. Since its founding, the College has been supported by the Methodist Church and has benefited from the enlightened leadership of great and devout men who understood the dream of Major Millsaps and Bishop Charles B. Galloway, the "spiritual founder," and dedicated their lives to its fulfillment.

The College opened its doors in 1892 with an enrollment of 149. With the passing of the years, a slow, steady growth was experienced; and today Millsaps College has an enrollment capacity of 800 students. The College has been known for the high standards of scholastic achievement required of its students. A great faculty has made of Millsaps College a great institution and a reservoir of leadership for the state of Mississippi. The influence of these scholars on the lives of the men and women who call Millsaps their alma mater is mirrored in the progress which the state has made in every field of endeavor during the past sixty years.

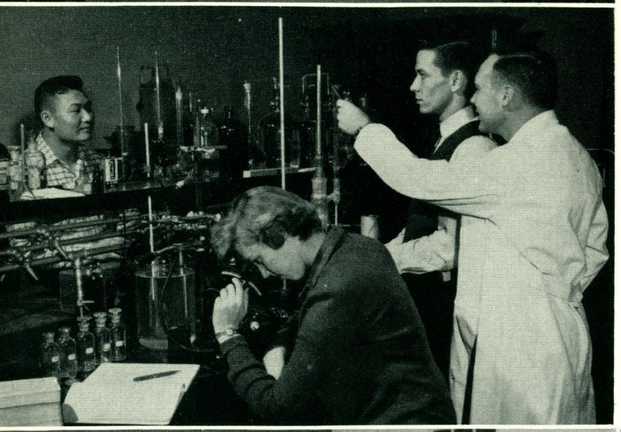
Benefiting from the wisdom of the past, Millsaps College is using the present to shape the future of the state, the nation, and the world. Young men and women, under the guidance of capable instructors and advisers, gain new insights into truth and enlarge their knowledge of the world about them, its people and their needs. Through activities, students develop the qualities of leadership and understanding which prepare them for the responsibilities which await them in the future. In addition to an experience of preparation for life, students are introduced to life itself at Millsaps College as they develop the skills which will enable them to contribute to the building of a better day for themselves and their neighbors.

And History in the Making at MILLSAPS



There's Study

Leaders in the business and professional world and governmental authorities are agreed that America needs men and women who are products of liberal arts training if she is to fulfill her responsibilities in the years which lie ahead. Recognizing this need, the College has as its primary aim the preparation of its students for responsible citizenship and well-rounded lives rather than for limited careers. The development of understanding, judgment, and ability to think are considered of great importance.

While Millsaps College is dedicated to the development of the total man, its training does not overlook the specific. Realizing that the demands of modern life require that a person be able to support himself adequately, College officials make available a wide choice of business and professional courses.

Students may select courses of study leading to the Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree with a major in one of the following subjects:

Biology

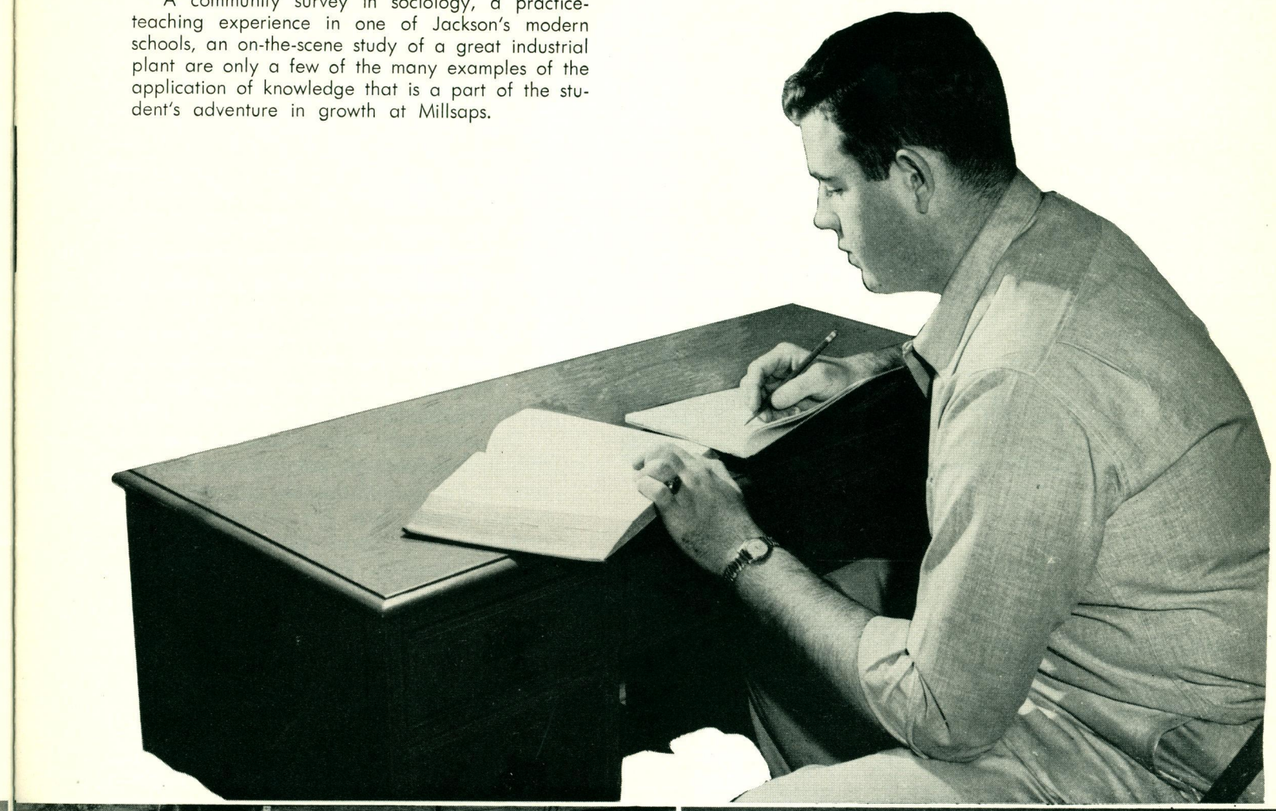
AND RELATED APPLIED ACTIVITY

The living laboratory to be found in the city of Jackson is used daily by Millsaps students, who supplement study and classroom activity with research, survey, and field trips in the metropolitan area surrounding the College.

A community survey in sociology, a practice-teaching experience in one of Jackson's modern schools, an on-the-scene study of a great industrial plant are only a few of the many examples of the application of knowledge that is a part of the student's adventure in growth at Millsaps.



There's Dormitory

A deep discussion lasts into the night.

One of the rewarding experiences in life can be found during college days when the student becomes a member of a campus community. Many have found this new citizenship at Millsaps College a real contribution to the development of total personality.

The campus community at Millsaps is large enough to afford ample opportunity for useful service, but small enough to provide a warm sense of comradeship and unity.

In the give-and-take of dormitory life, the student learns to respect the rights of others, to develop a sympathy for the problems of others, and, at the same time, to understand the fact that he, too, benefits when he has the respect and the admiration of his neighbors.

The Millsaps student grows not only in the classroom but in those sessions in the dormitories and fraternity houses when ideas are shared and problems are faced with honesty.

Student government is an important part of life on the campus. Representatives on the Student Executive Board are elected by the students and have a voice in decisions affecting campus life. Responsibility for expression of student views is shared by the individual through his use of the ballot in periodic elections.

Comfortable living today — a treasured memory tomorrow.

...AND Community Life

Under the conditions of freedom of choice which exist at Millsaps, the student discovers sooner or later that self-discipline is a requirement of good citizenship. The student who learns early to put first things first finds that he is successful in his studies, active in extracurricular affairs, and able to enjoy the proper amount of social life. Life at Millsaps is, in a very real sense, preparation for life in the larger community.

A valuable part in community life at Millsaps is played by the faculty and staff. One of the great advantages to be found at Millsaps is a very warm relationship between students and professors. In the eyes of the faculty, the student is an individual—and more, a friend—rather than merely one of an ever-growing number of young men and women in search of an education.

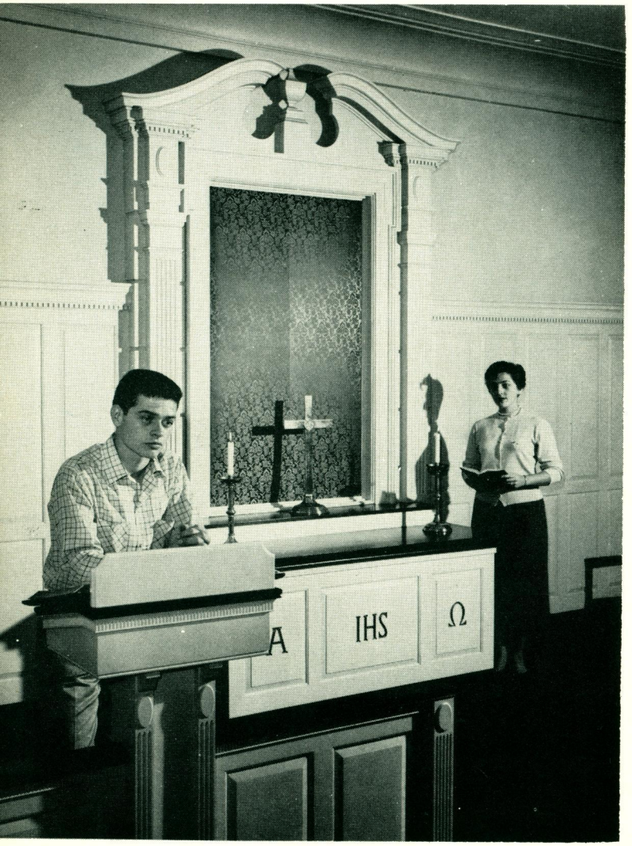
Values ARE MAINTAINED



Devotional leader expresses his faith.

Since its earliest days, Millsaps College has sought to inspire in its students a vital Christian faith. Faculty and staff members are Christian churchmen who believe that mental, social, and physical growth can best be obtained by emphasis of spiritual truth. Because of this philosophy, the Christian religion is an integral part of campus life.

The two Conferences of Mississippi Methodism support the College, the Department of Religion is staffed by ordained Methodist ministers, and a large number of Methodist clerical and lay leaders are Millsaps graduates. However, each year many students who are members of other denominations enroll at Millsaps. In addition to the Methodist student group, the following church fellowships are active on the campus: Baptist, Catholic, Episcopalian, and Presbyterian. A Christian Council composed of representatives of the several denominations governs campus religious activities and decides on programs and speakers for Religious Emphasis Week, held annually at the College.

In Religious Activity

Both on and off the campus, religious activity is designed to give the student every opportunity to express his faith in action.

Millsaps men and women take their places in the churches of Jackson and supply much of the leadership in youth groups and other organizations. Students interested in preparation for full-time Christian service find that institutions for the young and old need their services and respond warmly.

Beautiful Fitzhugh Chapel is the scene of Morning Watch and other student-directed worship services which furnish inspiration for daily living. Vespers on the steps of the Christian Center, with the western sky ablaze, is an uplifting experience for many Millsaps students.

Religious services for the entire student body are held at regular intervals in the Christian Center auditorium with music furnished by the a cappella choir and a message delivered by the president or other speakers.

There's Extracurricular Activity at MILLSAPS

Life at Millsaps College is, for the average student, a busy and exciting experience, filled with many opportunities for self-improvement.

Although students soon learn that studies are of primary importance in the quest for an education, the well-ordered person can find time for at least one non-academic endeavor. Some students engage in several extracurricular activities and maintain good averages in the classroom.

Participation in student activities is encouraged at Millsaps because officials recognize that such desirable qualities as initiative, cooperation, and leadership are developed when these activities are carefully chosen. Leaders in business and the professions today are seeking young men and women who have proved themselves good citizens of the college community through enthusiastic participation in campus extracurricular activities.

Once you, as a Millsaps student, have decided to include non-academic events in your exciting schedule at Millsaps College, another decision as difficult as the first, if you're an extrovert, must be faced. The campus is crowded with organizations boasting excellent reputations for achievement.

If it's music that interests you, there's that far-famed organization, the Millsaps Singers, an a cappella choir which tours the state and nation and is considered one of the finest organizations of its kind in collegiate circles. In addition, membership in the band is a thrilling experience with each new year bringing expansion and new opportunities for enjoyable instrumental musical expression.

For the aspiring dramatist, the Millsaps Players offers unexcelled opportunity for valuable training. The drama group presents only the best of the world's great plays.

If you're a journalist at heart, you'll find yourself quite at home behind a typewriter for the Purple and White, campus weekly newspaper, or the Bobashela, Millsaps yearbook, which records the events of the year for posterity. Stylus, campus literary magazine, publishes the best of the creative writers' efforts.

So you're a debater! Millsaps has long been active in the field of forensic endeavors, and many a tournament victory has been won by representatives of the Purple and White.

These are only a few of the many "outside activities" available to the Millsaps student as he seeks to develop his total personality during formative years. Professional and pre-professional groups, honoraries, and student government positions are numerous and offer constructive training for the life ahead.

Qualities of leadership and self-confidence are developed.

BOTH Varsity AND Intramural Sports

Athletic activity is an integral part of the student's life at Millsaps, taking its proper place with other functions in the development of the total personality.

Intercollegiate events in the athletic program of the College include football, basketball, baseball, tennis, golf, and track.

The Millsaps way in sports is the way of amateurism. No athletic scholarships are granted.

Boys who have played on their high school squads back home find that they can see varsity service at Millsaps with sufficient time remaining for studies and extracurricular activity. Teams of championship caliber have been developed in recent years with conference crowns in football, basketball, and tennis resting in the trophy case with pleasing frequency.

A home run is in the making for the Majors.

Volley ball action is fast and furious.

The intramural program at Millsaps is designed to reach every person on the campus. Through social organizations and independent groups, both men and women are encouraged to take part in at least one athletic event. Competition is keen; and here, again, the buoyant spirit that is a part of the Millsaps scene can be felt as friends compete against one another in exciting intramural contests.

The intramural program for men includes baseball, basketball, touch football, golf, softball, track, tennis, and volley ball.

Although Millsaps does not offer intercollegiate sports for women, the intramural program is fully developed and provides year-round opportunity for athletic activity. Sports such as ping-pong, volley ball, basketball, softball, and tennis offer coeds a variety from which to choose and promote physical, mental, emotional, and social well-being.

THERE'S TIME FOR Recreation AND Relaxation

There's nothing like well-chosen recreation to renew the body and relax the mind for the job at hand—and there's a wonderful store of possibilities in social life at Millsaps College.

Through the efforts of the office of the Dean of Students, college-sponsored recreational events make social life pleasant and gracious for the student body. Buie Gymnasium is frequently the scene of on-campus parties such as square dances and folk festivals, and new students are warmly welcomed at the traditional "mixers" in Whitworth Hall at the first of the year. Play Day is an annual event which emphasizes fun, food, fellowship, and athletic activity. Off-campus dances are popular with members of the student body. Hayrides and other outdoor parties are frequently sponsored by student organizations. Television sets in the dormitory living rooms are available during certain hours.

Greek-letter and independent social organizations offer students another avenue of social activity at Millsaps College. Approximately half of the student body become members of fraternities and sororities and independent groups. Students joining these organizations find close friends, are stimulated to academic and extracurricular achievement on the campus, and enjoy social events.

Students are encouraged to use the golf course, gymnasium, and tennis and shuffleboard courts during their leisure time—and many find daily relaxation there.

One of the best opportunities for recreation for Millsaps students is to be found in the spirited athletic events played on the campus by College football, basketball, and baseball squads. Loyalty to the Majors creates a warm spirit of unity at these contests.

Only a few blocks away from the one hundred acres that is Millsaps College lies one or more of Jackson's many recreational centers, which afford the finest in leisure-time activity.

Culturally, there are the Jackson Symphony Orchestra concerts, the Opera Guild's performances, the Little Theater plays, and the Music Association's sponsorship of internationally known performers at the city auditorium. Many of the world's currently popular plays can be seen in the same auditorium. The municipal art gallery and two magnificent new city libraries are open to Millsaps students.

Church socials furnish wholesome recreation for the young churchmen who are eager to maintain their interest in the church while away from home.

Three television stations, six radio stations, and ten theaters bring the latest and best that these modern media have to offer.

For the outdoor enthusiast, public parks, with their modern swimming pools and tennis, shuffleboard, and handball courts, are ideal places to relax and enjoy an afternoon. Picnic grounds are available for the small or large groups and the municipal zoo is one of the South's best.

Millsaps College has derived much of its greatness from the strength of its faculty. Through the years there have been attracted to the College teachers who have that quality of life which makes them ideally suited for the positions which they fill. The students whom they teach are influenced for lasting good through the excellence of their instruction, their strength of character, and their devotion to their calling as Christian churchmen.

THERE'S Helpful Counsel FROM Advisers

While college life is stimulating and enjoyable, it brings problems to the student who is beginning a new experience. When problems do arise, there is a genuine need for sympathetic and intelligent advice. Because of the size of the College and its thorough guidance program, officials are able to recognize and meet the needs of the individual student.

Counseling at Millsaps is both formal and informal in nature and is designed to give assistance in helping to solve the varying problems which are common to college students.

A major portion of the guidance program is the direct responsibility of the Dean of Students and the Dean of Women.

The President welcomes students and shares their problems.

To acquaint newcomers to the campus with life at Millsaps, students and faculty members plan and direct a period of orientation during the first week of school. During this time the new student learns what he can expect from his experiences and what is expected of him. Each student is assigned to a member of the faculty, who serves as his adviser in planning and carrying out his academic program. The entrance testing program enables the professional guidance staff to determine the special needs of each student in regard to his activities on the campus. Further tests are available to the student who wishes to know in greater detail his aptitudes, interests, and personality characteristics. Sympathetic and confidential guidance is given students who have problems of an educational, vocational, social, financial, or other personal nature.

How to Apply for Admission To Millsaps

Perhaps you've already made the big decision about your college home for the next four years and you're definitely planning to enroll at Millsaps College. If so, you'll want to know how to make application for admission.

Applications for the fall semester are submitted to the Admissions Committee in February, and those for the spring semester are submitted in November. If you'll need housing on the campus, it is particularly important that you lose no time in applying for admission.

First, you should write the Dean of the College, who is chairman of the Admissions Committee, for an application form. Fill it out carefully and return it as soon as possible.

A letter of recommendation from an official of the schools you have attended and a transcript of your high school and college credits is required by Millsaps College before your application can be considered.

As soon as your application and the necessary letters and transcripts are received, the Admissions Committee will act promptly upon your request for admission.

Once you are accepted, a $10.00 classroom reservation fee is required, and room assignments in dormitories are made on the basis of the order in which these fees are received.

If You're Interested in Self-Help

Lack of funds may be your problem. If so, you may apply in writing to the Awards Committee for financial assistance. Campus jobs at hourly or semester rates are available, and the Placement Center in the office of the Dean of Students assists students in finding off-campus employment.

MILLSAPS COLLEGE BULLETIN

AN ADDRESS

BY

HONORABLE FRED B. SMITH

Methodism in Mississippi is a great institution, a dynamic force. It affords the means of spiritual devotion to tens of thousands of our people. It contributes to the support of orphans. It promotes the education of youth. It cares for the sick. It extends help to the needy. It is benevolent to the poor. It is a bulwark in the Kingdom of God. Yes, Methodism in Mississippi is a great institution, but it did not just happen. We enjoy its comforting power and strength because men and women of faith and courage paid an enormous price for its creation and growth; because fearless and devoted souls faced great testing times and did not falter. Tonight we, as the representatives of Methodism in Mississippi, face a new testing time, and we must not, we dare not, falter.

As we consider this new test, it is a great privilege to address you on a subject which challenges the faith and courage of Mississippi Methodists. The subject poses a question that may well determine our future course.

"The church related college in a free society."

This subject involves more than a mere academic consideration. It embraces our duty, our responsibility to our own church related college.

America was founded upon the theory of the liberty, the freedom, the independence of mankind. Upon that theory our civilization is based, in it our way of life is anchored. We established this theory in a proclamation of freedom which we called the Declaration of Independence. Prior to its publication, for limitless generations, a majority of the men and women of the earth had lived in serfdom or slavery. Suffering and suppressed people had dreamed of freedom, and towards its realization, they had slowly, painfully struggled for thousands of years. When our pioneer forefathers announced the principle that all men were entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that all nations were entitled to freedom and self-government, the right to individual effort and accomplishment, equally guaranteed to every man; harassed and distressed people throughout the entire world looked toward a new day with revived hope and expectation. Freedom was then a precious thing, a thing for which no price was too great to pay.

MILLSAPS-WILSON LIBRARY

But now it has been so long a part of the American system, the American way of life, that it has become commonplace. We take it for granted, we have become complacent about it.

There are few of us who can realize that today the liberty and freedom of the men and women of the free world is threatened with destruction; that it is a thing we can no longer take for granted, but that it is a precious heritage, the preservation of which may cost a tremendous price.

The world today is divided into two great antagonistic forces:

Human liberty against human slavery;

Christian kindness against pagan brutality;

Freedom of thought and action against mental suppression and mass regimentation;

Knowledge and enlightenment against ignorance and illiteracy;

MILLSAPS-WILSON LIBRARY
JACKSON, MISSISSIPPI

A desire for peace against a craving for world domination;

Faith and hope and love against fear and dread and hate;

A free world against an enslaved world.

With all our faults and mistakes and shortcomings, the Western World has given to the human race the greatest degree of freedom it has ever achieved.

History's great documents of human liberty.....the Magna Charta, the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, the Constitution of the United States.....have all had their origin in what we call western civilization. Democratic government, the only theory of government today offering hope for individual liberty, is making its last stand in the Western World. Opposed to all for which it stands is Communism, the greatest vehicle ever produced for dictatorship and the subordination of individual life and effort.

We stand tonight upon a precipice of disaster, with possibilities so appalling that no price is too great to pay to avoid its dangers.

The limitless millions of people behind Russia's Iron Curtain, added to the additional millions behind China's bamboo screen, together with their satellites, outnumber the men of the free Western World three to one; and the totalitarian armed forces probably outnumber the armies of the free world more than 4 to 1. This colossal horde is dedicated to force, violence and world domination. Its ideologies are diametrically opposed to all for which the free Christian world stands. In this crucial time, the tenets of individual liberty, the doctrine of the freedom of human beings, the principle of independent thought and word and action, are being denounced and destroyed in areas of the world containing more than one-half of its total population. Those principles of truth, right, justice and freedom, proclaimed in the Declaration of Independence and inculcated into the very woof and texture of this nation, are being assailed and condemned by ruthless and designing men around the world. Democracy with its theory of government of the people, for the people and by the people; democracy which permits and encourages free enterprise and independence of thought and action; democracy which preserves equality of opportunity and guarantees to every person, life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; democracy with its component principle of freedom, standing as one of the crowning achievements of the human race; democracy as we know it and love it, embodying as it does, the last hope for the freedom and independence of man, is in a terrific struggle for survival.

The power of God, and the force of the Christian religion, will not perish from the face of the earth so long as humanity shall survive. But if Western civilization, which has been the principal medium and vehicle of Christianity, is to continue to exist, we must devise some means to circumvent the power of the totalitarian world. We cannot meet their force with manpower alone. We must meet force with initiative and self-reliance. We must meet brutality and violence with skill and invention. We must meet corruption and depravity with wisdom and knowledge.

To further enhance the tragic danger which faces the free world, man, for the first time in all of his history, has acquired a means which can lead to his utter and complete destruction. Hydrogen and Atomic energy are destructive forces with potentialities so fearful that they stagger the imagination. In this trying hour of history, humanity's greatest curse; totalitarianism's greatest ally; freedom's greatest enemy, is ignorance.

If the free world survives, it will survive by Christian faith; if liberty is not to die, it must live through enlightenment, expansion of thought, the development of knowledge and wisdom. The proper training of the human mind, the development of the thought life of our people on exhalted Christian levels, is the greatest safeguard of freedom.

Education without God can be a dangerous thing. A technically trained mind, without the harmonious influence that goes with a knowledge of those moral and ethical values found only in Christian teachings, can become a deadly force. Ignorance must be counteracted, but its antidote must be safe, wholesome and sound. As man's knowledge increases, his vision of God must be expanded. I believe it was Emerson who said:

> "The true test of civilization is not the census nor the size of cities, nor the crops nor the industry...no, but the kind of men the country turns out."

If freedom is to survive, then, in the trying days which lie ahead, the college, such as this, must play a noble and valiant part. From the very inception of higher education in America, the church related college has given godly ideals to our nation's youth. It has furthered our social reforms, trained and developed our business, political and religious leaders. Without it, America would not be the country we enjoy today; without it, America will not be the country our children shall need tomorrow.

College education is one of America's chosen ways of progress. The biggest business in our commonwealth is the business of education. With the exception of national defense, it represents our greatest investment in money and men and time. The total annual expenditure for the operation of institutions of higher learning is approximately two and one-half billion dollars. There are today approximately two and a quarter million young men and women attending colleges and universities in the United States. They are the leaders of tomorrow. Upon their shoulders rests the future of our nation, the course of our civilization, the strength of our church.

During Colonial Days, and extending through the period between the Revolution and the War between the States, privately supported and church related colleges furnished virtually the only means of higher education in America. Today there are approximately 1200 privately supported and church related colleges and universities in our country. Individually these institutions may be regarded as of only local significance, but collectively, they are a mighty force in the structure of American education. They are the backbone of higher learning, an indispensable part of American life. The safety of the nation, the future of free men may well be determined by their course. Yet, I am told that because of the changed economic and financial conditions under which we live today, approximately one-half of all the church related colleges and universities are now operating at a financial loss. Such a critical condition brings us face to face with a situation which can have only one of two solutions. Either higher education must be turned over entirely to the state supported schools; or, you and I, and thousands of others like us, must wake up to the needs of our church supported schools and must be brought to a realization of our obligation to them.

I have no antipathy for the State supported institution of higher learning. I secured my professional training from such an institution. I fully realize the important part such schools are playing in the educational life of the nation. Such colleges and universities are indispensable in the field of professional and vocational training. They are turning out annually thousands of professionally and technically trained men and women whose services are absolutely essential to our great agricultural, industrial and business enterprise.

Our present effort for Millsaps will be presented to the business leaders of Mississippi who are members of our church. Business men everywhere have lamented the growing domination of affairs by the State and the Government. We wonder if they have paused to consider the far-reaching effect of completely transferring to the State the management of all higher education. It would be a tremendous step towards socialism, towards dictatorial power. Any endeavor continuously conducted and operated under State jurisdiction, sooner or later acquires a bureaucratic pattern, and bureaucracy stiffles ingenuity and individual effort. Higher education in America must not become static, it must remain a vigorous, active, vital, living force.

The liberty of the free world depends upon the preservation of freedom of thought, freedom of action, freedom of effort. That freedom may be forever lost in the stiffling, entangling confusion of a wholly dominated state system of higher education. The bondage of the people of the Soviet world is a bondage to the state. In that world, the state owns, operates and controls all business, all education and all other important activities. It is vital that we, in America, should curb the drift of this great country towards a bondage to the state, because from that bondage there is no release.

America and the free world would lose a vital source of strength, a fundamental base of power if we permit the state maintained college to displace the church related school.

The life of a nation is determined by the fullness of the measure of those who live therein. It is determined by the spirit and character of its people. The free world today looks to and depends upon America for guidance and leadership. If the light of freedom is to be kept burning, we must furnish the fuel, and one of the greatest sources of that fuel is found in institutions such as this.

If America is to continue to preserve the priceless heritage of freedom and independence of her people; if she is to continue to stand as a beacon of hope to the less fortunate peoples of the world; if she is to maintain the position of world leadership which has been cast upon her; if she is to remain the bulwark against those isms which would retard for generations man's struggle for individual liberty, the people of this nation must realize as never before, the responsibility which is theirs. Can we, in this trying hour of history's course, afford to abandon an instrumentality which is so vitally important to the welfare of free men?

There cannot be a person within the sound of my voice tonight who would say that the people of Jackson, and the Methodists of Mississippi, should abandon Millsaps College. This college alone cannot insure a free world; but along with scores of other schools of like kind and character, it can accomplish much toward maintaining the freedom of thought and action so vital to our civilization. This institution has performed, it is now performing, and it will continue to perform limitless services within its own sphere of activity.

Men long ago learned that no army could successfully attain its objectives without a rallying point, a standard, a flag, an emblem. Millsaps College is the standard, the emblem, the rallying point of Methodism in Mississippi. It is the nucleus from which emanates much of the force and power of our church. It is vital to its continued usefulness, vigor and strength. If we are interested in our church, then we cannot shirk our obligation to this college.

For more than sixty years Millsaps College has stood as a guiding light to worthy and deserving young men and women desiring educational development. It has trained and developed and sent forth into the world multiple thousands who have achieved success in varied fields of activity, and blessed their state and nation with their accomplishments. But it has attained its highest distinction in the training of those able and faithful ministers who have carried the Gospel of Christ to the remotest sections of our State.

It is the only institution of higher learning operated by the Methodists of Mississippi. If it involved nothing more than a matter of pride, we could not afford to lose our last bastion of learning in the State, but it is not merely a matter of pride; it is a matter of absolute, stark necessity. To those who love our church and are familiar with its problems, there is no more disturbing and discouraging situation than the grevious shortage of ministers in our rural areas. If ourchurch is to survive, and do its part in maintaining a free world, it must not become merely a city church. It must carry the Christian religion to the uttermost parts of our state and nation. Our rural sections, our villages and small towns are just as vital to our economy, to our civilization, to the cause of Christ, as are the major towns and cities. The rural people are just as entitled to have the ministering care of the church, and have the Word of God preached, as those who live in great metropolitan areas. Yet, those in authority in the church are constantly faced with the ever-increasing difficulty of meeting the rural needs. Millsaps is the only source in Mississippi today for the training and supplying of preachers and Christian workers in our church.

The Methodist Church of our State cannot continue to accomplish its aims and purposes without an institution for the training of its preachers and workers. Yet, as has been explained to you today, if Millsaps is to maintain its present high degree of usefulness, additional financial aid is absolutely necessary. It is as impossible to operate a college today on the same amount of money as was available for the same purpose ten or fifteen years ago, as it is impossible to maintain a family or conduct a business or enterprise on the same amount of money that was required for the purpose fifteen years ago. To properly support and sustain this institution and give its students only those reasonable necessities of physical plant and equipment, the million dollars for which we are being asked is a very minimum to meet the need.

Someone has asked me if the school could not get by on less than a million dollars. Yes, on less than a million dollars the doors could probably be kept open. Yes, on less than a million dollars we could probably get by. But when did the Methodists of Mississippi sink so low that they were satisfied with just getting by?

If we are going to operate a college, it must be one of the best. Millsaps has always stood at the top. It has been recognized throughout the length and breadth of this land for the superior advantages it offered. If we have grown so miserly and parsimonious that we cannot maintain this institution on a standard commensurate with the traditions of its past; if we have become so apathetic and indifferent to the needs of our youth that we cannot support it in a manner that will reflect honor and credit upon our church, and be worthy of the city in which we have located it, then let us close its doors and honestly admit our unworthiness

But I do not anticipate the necessity of such a course. The Methodists of Mississippi have never failed to measure up to the exigencies of the occasion, and they will not fail at this late date. But mark this statement. We have set our shoulder to the wheel, we must not hesitate, we must not turn back, we must not stop until the full amount is paid. Having pledged ourselves to raise a million dollars, the honor of Methodism is at stake. To raise less could have a tragic effect upon our church. The goal must be reached!

America is spending limitless billions of dollars to maintain a free world. We, of Mississippi, are paying a substantial part of this in taxes. Can we fail to pay the comparatively small amount needed here for so important an adjunct to freedom? Mississippians want to preserve the priceless liberty which is theirs today. They want to live as individual human beings, not as an abstract aggregation of human beings. They want to feel that they are each a human machine, not merely a cog in a human machine. The greatness of this nation rests upon the assumption that a human being has certain individual God given rights which no power on earth can take away. It is true that the present hour looks dark for the free world, but defeatism is not a part of our national character. The average American, regardless of the darkness around him, has always maintained his hope for the future. William Allen White once said:

"I am not afraid of tomorrow, for I have seen yesterday and I live today."

The free world must not surrender hope, but we must be willing to contribute as never before to the source from which tomorrow's hope must spring. The hope of America, the hope of the world, the hope of Christianity; the greatest asset in which we can invest our time, our money, and our lives, is in the youth around us. Our church tonight faces no greater problem, it will never be called upon to consider a more important subject, than that of Christianity's responsibility to youth.

Destroy, if you will, the most valued and highly prized material ramparts of America, but leave to her a young manhood and young womanhood endowed with health, character, courage and unshakable Christian faith, and her achievements of the future will exceed anything which has passed, and her horizons will be extended beyond the fondest dreams of her most ardent advocates. Youth is the raw material of all the civilization there is, or ever was or ever will be. No problem, no complexity of situations, no combination of circumstances will ever master the free world so long as it can produce, educate and develop boys and girls who are virile, honorable, patriotic and who have faith in God. But tonight, as never before, youth needs, youth must have, training, supervision, counsel, advice and encouragement such as is found upon the campus and within the walls of this institution.

This college, dedicated to the Christian training of the youth of Mississippi, is the result of the dreams and untiring effort of faithful and godly men and women. Today it needs, and I confidently believe it shall receive, the loyal and united support of the Methodists of Mississippi.

DD, Centenary College

The President's Report

It is an honor to report on the life of Millsaps College for the year 1953-54. It is a happy privilege to assure the members of the Board of Trustees and the entire constituency of the College that the men and women in places of responsibility have labored arduously and served faithfully. We are exceedingly fortunate to have an excellent faculty and staff, unusually responsive students, and a splendid physical plant.

The report I submit, in reality, is the report of dozens of people who have contributed so generously to the success of this academic year.

Review of School Year 1953-54

THE FACULTY

The secret of a college's greatness is its instructional staff. Millsaps College has been known far and wide for its able Faculty. Our challenge is to maintain this excellence.

During the current year the Humanities Division of the Faculty has made a careful study of the purpose of Millsaps College. This restatement of purpose has been presented to the entire Faculty for further study and consideration. This study will continue through next year. Following the restatement of purpose will come a careful re-examination of our curriculum to ascertain how we can most effectively fulfill our purpose. This study has been an excellent experience for the members of the Faculty who have participated in it.

The teaching loads of our Faculty members continue to be heavy. Almost every member of the Faculty teaches fifteen hours. The number of students taught by some instructors is excessive. It is our policy to attract excellent teachers to the Faculty and to retain them. Our financial resources do not allow for a large number of teachers. It needs to be noted that the best teaching results from a low student-faculty ratio. With the addition of four new faculty members next year, the situation will be somewhat improved. Within the immediate future, however, additional instructors should be added.

Additions to the Teaching Faculty

Since the June, 1953, meeting of the Board of Trustees, three full-time members of the Faculty have been added:

Dr. William J. Brett — Assistant Professor of Biology

Dr. Brett received his Master of Science degree from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and his Doctor of Philosophy degree from Northwestern. Dr. and Mrs. Brett attend Galloway Memorial Methodist Church. Dr. Brett's home was in Chicago.

Dr. Frank Laney — Associate Professor of History

Dr. Laney received his Master of Arts and his Doctor of Philosophy degrees from the University of Virginia. He was an instructor in Emory University from September, 1948, until June, 1951. Dr. Laney is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Omicron Delta Kappa. He is a native of Tupelo, Mississippi. Dr. and Mrs. Laney have two children. They attend Galloway Memorial Methodist Church.

Mr. John T. Zumbro — Associate Professor of Economics

Mr. Zumbro, a native of Murfreesboro, Tennessee, has his Master of Arts degree from the University of Tennessee. He has one year of study beyond the M.A. degree. His teaching experience includes a quarter at Carson-Newman College and four years at the University of Tennessee. Mr. and Mrs. Zumbro have one son. They are members of the First Presbyterian Church.

The Faculty for 1954-55 will have an additional three men and a fourth part-time instructor.

1. Professor Robert E. Bergmark, who has served so ably during Dr. Fleming's leave of absence, will remain on the Faculty as assistant professor of philosophy. Mr. Bergmark will also teach some courses in the Department of Religion. He expects to receive his Doctor of Philosophy degree from Boston University in June, 1955.

2. Professor Sam Knox will return to the Faculty as associate professor of mathematics. Mr.

Knox has studied for two years at the University of Michigan. He hopes to receive his Doctor of Philosophy degree by June, 1955.

3. The new member of the Faculty in the Department of Physical Education will be announced later.

4. Mr. Harmon Tillman will be a part-time instructor in speech for next year. He has been an instructor in speech and debate coach at Vanderbilt for two years. He will be serving a church in the Jackson District.

5. Mr. George Maddox has requested a leave of absence for two years to study for the Doctor of Philosophy degree. Mr. Maddox has the distinction of being awarded a Kent Fellowship. He will study at Michigan State. Replacing Mr. Maddox is Mr. Harry Dillingham.

Mr. Dillingham was born in Texas and was educated in the public schools of that state, studying at Texas A. & M. and the University of Texas. His graduate study has been at the University of Michigan. His work for the Doctor of Philosophy degree will be completed by the end of the summer. Mr. Dillingham is a member of the Methodist Church. He and his wife will arrive in Jackson in the late summer.

Academic Dean

During the illness of Dean Riecken, Dr. J. S. Ferguson has served as Academic Dean. During this period, Dr. Ferguson has directed the academic work of the students, checking the registration of each student, judging whether transfer credits of new students satisfy Millsaps' requirements, administering absence regulations, and enforcing rules covering probationary students.

A revision of the absence regulations was prepared and presented to the Faculty early in the second semester. It was approved and was put into effect immediately. It is not yet possible to determine if the new regulations have been more effective than the old system in holding absences to a minimum.

An examination of the grades made by Millsaps students shows that good work is being done by a high percentage of the students enrolled. There were 182 students on the Dean's List which was prepared on the basis of first semester reports. Thirteen students had perfect indexes of 3.00. A letter was sent from the Dean's office to each of the 182 students commending them for their achievement. On the other hand, 78 students were placed on probation because of unsatisfactory records. Letters were sent to them apprising them of the regulations on probationary students. Special conferences have been held with these students during the second semester to help them develop effective study programs.

Dr. William E. Riecken

Dr. William E. Riecken has served as the Dean of the Faculty for sixteen years. During this time, he has maintained the high academic standards of the College's tradition. His interest in the success and welfare of every student has been continuous. Wherever Millsaps College graduates are found, there you will find warm friends and earnest admirers of Dean Riecken.

During Dr. Riecken's illness, the second semester of 1953-54, Dr. James S. Ferguson has been Acting Dean. Dr. Ferguson will also serve as director of the summer session.

Dr. James S. Ferguson

My recommendation to the Board of Trustees is that Dr. Ferguson be promoted from Acting Dean to Dean. This recommendation has the enthusiastic approval of the members of the Faculty. It is confidently believed that it also has the complete approval of the students.

Dr. Ferguson is the son of the Reverend and Mrs. J. E. J. Ferguson, now residents of Jackson. His father served for more than two score years as a faithful pastor in Mississippi. Educated in the public schools of Mississippi, Dr. Ferguson studied at Millsaps College and was graduated with honors in 1937. After teaching in the high schools of Mississippi for two years, he returned to college, taking his Master's Degree at Louisiana State University. Dr. Ferguson then studied and taught at the University of North Carolina, in Chapel Hill. He was awarded the Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1952. He joined the Millsaps College Faculty in 1944 as assistant professor of history and has steadily earned promotions in rank, climaxing with his appointment in February of this year as Acting Dean. As a Ford Foundation scholar, Dr. Ferguson studied at Yale University during the year 1952-53. He has taught a summer session at Tulane University in the Department of History.

By training, experience, and personality, Dr. Ferguson is admirably suited for this important position. He is a careful student and a competent scholar. His dealings with both Faculty and students are fair and patient. He is a man of good judgment, of the highest Christian character, and of fervent devotion to Millsaps College. It is appropriate to note that he has declined invitations to join the faculty of two large universities in order to remain at Millsaps College.

With Dr. Ferguson's promotion to Dean, an additional instructor in history will be added. It is believed that the new instructor will be able to teach other courses in the social sciences. Dr. Ferguson will continue to teach two courses.

STUDENT LIFE

The student life outside the academic field is directed by the Dean of Students, Dr. J. E. McCracken, and the Dean of Women, Miss Mildred Morehead. Dean McCracken and Miss Morehead are completing their first year in their respective positions. Their work has been excellent. Miss Morehead has been a member of the faculty for some years. She continues to carry a heavy teaching load. Dean McCracken also does some teaching.

A focal point for student personnel services has been established through the coordination of the two offices. The offices are now arranged in a manner which has provided for efficient execution of the following functions during the past year:

Orientation

New students were familiarized with the College program through a successful orientation week, with increased assistance from student leaders. Greater individual attention in the orientation of new students for next year is anticipated from a special program to be instituted during the summer.

Testing

It is of interest to note that the scores of our students on the entrance tests administered in the fall placed our median higher than the national median. Approximately 65 students have been given special tests (including tests on vocational interests, personality, intelligence, and special aptitudes) in connection with counseling through the office of the Dean of Students.

Faculty Advisers

Faculty advisers made particular efforts to assist new students by having scheduled conferences with them and by giving special attention to any students who were having academic difficulties.

Counseling

In addition to the counseling on educational and personal problems done by Faculty advisers, the Dean of Students and the Dean of Women have given special counseling attention to at least 150 students. Of these, approximately 45% were freshmen.

Housing

Dormitory life has been improved by the consolidation of the separate men's and women's housing committees into the Residence Halls Committee. During the first semester of this year our housing facilities were crowded, with serious over-crowding in the men's dormitories. Present indications are that the housing situation may be even more acute for the coming year.

Social Activities

Efforts have been made to encourage social activities which will meet the needs of all students. We recognize the desirability of promoting additional campus-wide recreational opportunities. The proposed student union building will make available splendid facilities for such opportunities.

Ten social groups are active, five each for men and women students. Eight of these are Greek-letter organizations, four each for men and women. An analysis of student membership in organized social groups indicates that 69% of the women and 52% of the men belong to these organizations. A further analysis shows that 52% of all women students are members of Greek-letter sororities and 47% of the men belong to Greek-letter fraternities. These figures are consistent with the number of students who wish to affiliate with social organizations.

The administration of the College recognizes the desire on the part of all these groups to further the total interests of the whole college community. For example, the fraternities have offered to make additional spaces available by overcrowding their facilities in order to assist the College in housing the students.

Student Activities

The College continues to have a strong program of student activities, including the Millsaps Singers, the Band, the Millsaps Players, the Debate Club, the Purple and White, the Bobashela, and the several pre-professional organizations. Every student is encouraged to participate in some activity where talents can be developed and skills may be improved. Special mention should be made of the Millsaps Players, directed by Mr. Lance Goss, and the Millsaps Singers, directed by Mr. Alvin Jon King. The Players have staged three ambitious plays: Jean Cocteau's The Infernal Machine; Richard Sheridan's The Rivals; and The Madwoman of Chaillot, by Jean Giradoux. In addition, three one-act plays, student-directed, were presented. One hundred and seventy-five students compose the Millsaps Players. Sixty-five people played eighty-nine roles. Of the sixty-five, thirty-five made their first appearances on the Millsaps stage this year.

The Millsaps Singers voted to make their entire spring tour within the state. This decision was typical of the students' interest in our Million for Millsaps campaign. In addition to the week-long tours, one each through North and South Mississippi, a number of week-end trips were made. Every part of the state was covered. This organization continues to be superb in its performance. One of our most discriminating and distinguished visitors of the year, Dr. George A. Buttrick, of New York City, commented with enthusiasm that he had never heard a better college choir. Approximately 160 students have participated in the Millsaps Singers program during the year.

The Millsaps College Band next year will be directed by an extremely able student, Mr. Sam Jones. Dean McCracken will act as band adviser, meeting regularly with the group at rehearsals.

With the addition of Mr. Tillman to our speech staff, the debating activities will be considerably strengthened during the next school year.

Student Government

In view of general agreement that the present organization of student government is in many respects ineffective, careful analysis of campus operations and activities are being made. It is anticipated that from these studies improvements may gradually evolve.

Health Program

The health program has met the minimum needs of our students. Consideration is being given to some college-sponsored accident insurance coverage, an element of the health program which seems to need strengthening.

Placement

A placement function has been established in the office of the Dean of Students, which serves as a clearing house between students needing part-time jobs and employers seeking student labor. Assistance is also given to seniors seeking full-time positions.

A survey on 118 students who hold part-time jobs shows that these students worked an average of 16 hours per week (with a range from 4 to 48 hours) and earned an average of 85c per hour (with a range from 40c to $2.75 per hour).

College Calendar

The official register for all College functions is the College calendar in the office of the Dean of Students.

Religious Activities

The religious activities have been directed by a Faculty committee working closely with the Christian Council. The program includes the following:

1) Denominational groups meet twice monthly. Each group selects a Faculty adviser.

2) The Ministerial League, composed of all ministerial students on the campus, meets weekly. Mr. Anding is the adviser to this group.

3) The Women Christian Workers include all women students preparing for church vocations. The group meets each week.

4) The Young Women's Christian Association meets in small commissions and in larger groups. Mrs. Hederi serves as advisor to this organization.

5) The Thursday chapel programs have proven to be of real value. The response of the students to an atmosphere of worship in the auditorium is marvelous.

6) Each Sunday morning during the regular academic year, a service of Holy Communion is conducted in Fitzhugh Chapel. These services are conducted by one of the clergymen on the Faculty.

7) The students conduct a daily Vesper Service and a Morning Watch period.

8) The highlight of the year's religious activities was the series of Decell lectures given this year by Dr. George A. Buttrick, of New York City. Dr. Buttrick's incisive and stimulating addresses were profound and provocative. With his penetrating mind and magnificent Christian spirit, he left an indelible impact on the life of our college community.

Other leaders in the program were the Reverend John H. Cook, the Reverend Elmer Boykin, and the Reverend Mac Turnage.

9) The Holy Week services were well-planned and well-received. There were special services each evening during the week, a Maundy Thursday service of Holy Communion, and a three-hour service on Good Friday.

The most reassuring part of our campus religious life is the wholesome attitude of our students and the excellent spirit of our Faculty. It is to be noted that a more stimulating program of religious activities would result if we had a Director of Religious Life.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND AWARDS

The program of scholarships for students is an increasingly important one. Many able young men and women would elect to study at Millsaps College, but cannot do so without financial assistance. A part-time job is frequently the solution. Long hours of work, however, are often detrimental to the student's health and prevent his participation in many College activities.

Our scholarship program now includes:

1) Endowed Scholarships. These are awarded to students by a Faculty committee on the basis of need after a careful examination of the applications. With our resources, we are now able to assist some 35 to 40 students with about $100 per year. This means we can give a small scholarship to 5% of our students.

2) High School Day Scholarships. Twenty scholarships are awarded to high school seniors each year. These scholarships are awarded to those seniors making the highest scores on a competitive examination. An award goes to the three students making the highest scores; an award goes to the student from each of the state's P. T. A. Districts making the highest score; and an award goes to the three students from Jackson making the highest scores.

3) National Methodist Student Scholarships. The General Board of Education each year awards full tuition scholarships to two of our students. The students are recommended by our Faculty committee. The number of these scholarships has been cut in recent years. They are made possible by church offerings on Methodist Student Day.

4) Scholarships for Ministerial Students. A full tuition scholarship is offered to each student who has a local preacher's license from a quarterly conference in Mississippi. For each year of this scholarship grant the student agrees to serve a church in Mississippi for one year. Millsaps College this year awarded $16,625 in scholarships to ministerial students.

It is suggested that in some instances the ministerial student might be both able and willing to pay the full tuition charge. This would enable the College to assist other students who are unable to pay their tuition.

5) Scholarships for Sons and Daughters of Ministers and for Faculty Members. The College offers a 50% tuition scholarship to sons and daughters of faculty members and of ministers who are members of one of the two Mississippi Conferences of the Methodist Church. The amount of these scholarships this year was $2500.

It is suggested in this instance that this scholarship should be optional rather than automatic. Some minister or professor may be both able and willing to pay the full tuition, thus releasing some funds for other students whose parents are less able to pay the costs of education.

6) Student Assistants. The Awards Committee makes available to each of the departments at least one student assistant, appointed on the recommendation of the chairmen of the several departments. In some instances, more than one assistant is assigned. Ninety student assistants were included in this year's program. The amount of this scholarship aid is $5,000.

7) Scholarships Provided by Churches and Individuals. This is a part of our scholarship program which is showing some growth. Some individuals are now providing scholarship aid for students. The gift is sent to the College to apply to the student's account. The student is sometimes selected by the donor, sometimes by the College. The student must be acceptable to the College.

An increasing number of local churches are providing scholarships for worthy students.

This scholarship aid is in addition to their current support of the College. It is important to make this division.

For the future, it is hoped that our endowed scholarship fund can be greatly increased. In the meantime, it is desirable that more individuals and/or churches be encouraged to assist promising young men and women in their education at Millsaps College.

THE LIBRARY

Three comments are made about the Library.

First, and important from the standpoint of the College in general, the Library, we believe, is more nearly approaching its goal of being a study center on the campus.

Next, from the standpoint of library administration, the important fact is that an inventory of the entire book collection will have been finished by the end of the school year. More valuable than the figures we arrive at will be the overall impression we get of the Library holdings, both as to strong points and inadequacies.

Finally, from the standpoint of the future, the achievement of the Library year may be summed up in the word planning. Plans have been suggested not only for remodeling and modernizing the present building but for setting up a temporary library elsewhere for use during the coming year. We have taken the opportunity afforded by such a move to get the cooperation of the Faculty in re-evaluating the entire collection of books and magazines. This joint effort is resulting in the withdrawal of much material no longer useful and in making room for new and inviting replacements.

The regular activities of the Library may be seen in the following statistics, which cover the year only from June, 1953, through April, 1954:

Number books circulated	13,933
Number books added:	1,257
by purchase—582, by gift—262, by bound magazines—163, by accession of old books—250.
Number books classified and processed	1,137
Amount of fines collected	$407.27
Amount of budget spent	$4,257.19
Permanent equipment provided—a 60-drawer cabinet	$738.00

THE REGISTRAR'S OFFICE

Each school year the work done in the office of the Registrar follows a rather definite routine. The Registrar's Office supervises the students' registration. Previous to the actual day of registration, each student has been provided with a summary sheet, showing in detail how many hours and quality points he has earned, how many required subjects he has yet to take, and exactly what he lacks toward earning a degree from Millsaps College. He is given an opportunity before the beginning of each semester and summer school to pre-register. Pre-registration not only assists the College in knowing how to make its plans, but serves the more important function of encouraging the student to plan his work carefully and leisurely in advance with the assistance of a Faculty adviser. Each professor is provided with a pre-registration class roll for his classes to assist him in planning his work. A necessary adjunct of pre-registration is for the Registrar's Office to have each semester's schedule and room assignments worked out well in advance so that early registration is possible.

The Registrar evaluates the transcripts of all incoming students and permanent records are set up for each student. The permanent records then are maintained, semester by semester, for all students as long as they are at Millsaps. The Registrar's Office also maintains the permanent records for those students at the University of Mississippi-Millsaps Center who elect to have their credits come through our College.

Administrative Activities

The Registrar's Office carries on these other functions as a matter of routine: the scheduling of examinations and the assignment of rooms; the compilation of statistics and scholastic averages; the preparation of lists of students eligible for the Dean's List and for the list on academic probation; the determination of honors and awards at graduation time; the certification of students for graduation; the procurement and preparation of diplomas; and the certification of eligibility for fraternity and sorority initiations.

The Catalog

The Registrar's Office has prepared and edited the Millsaps Catalog and distributes it not only to students and prospective students, but to various interested colleges and universities throughout the United States and several foreign countries. The Office maintains a library of catalogs from other institutions of higher learning. We have made a special effort this year to make our collection as complete as possible. At present we have 1,146 catalogs from other colleges in our collection. Not only does this collection serve the needs of the administrators, teachers, and students of Millsaps College, but frequent use is made of the catalogs by citizens in our state.

Selective Service

Each June the Registrar's Office submits to the various Selective Service Boards throughout the nation the class standings of the various male students in school who are registered with their local draft boards. A copy is mailed to the board, a copy is sent to the student, and a copy is kept in the files of the Office. Various other communications are carried on with the draft boards during the year upon the request of the students or the draft boards.

Veterans' Affairs

The veterans enrolled who are attending school under Public Law 550 are certified to the Veterans Administration. The Registrar's Office has forwarded to the Veterans Administration during the last school year 1,485 forms which have been filled out in the Office and signed by the Registrar. A complete file is kept of all forms mailed to the Veterans Administration for each student who is attending school under the P.L. 550. During the second semester, there were seventy-six students attending school under P.L. 550, the Korean Bill.

The Registrar's Office has attempted this school year to forward the grade reports to the parents as soon as possible after the close of the work of each semester. During the school year, 3,130 grade reports have been issued.

Transcript Service

A regular activity of the Registrar's Office is the issuance upon request of transcripts of work done at Millsaps College. During the past school year, because of revision in the teacher certification requirements, the Registrar believes that almost every teacher who has attended Millsaps in the state of Mississippi has requested a transcript to be mailed to the State Department of Education. Since we are the custodian of the records of Whitworth College during the years that it was under the supervision of the Methodist Church and of Grenada College, the Registrar's Office has sent many transcripts of records from those institutions. The preparation of these records, particularly those of the earlier years, has required much research and correspondence. The preparation of these transcripts from the early records of Whitworth College and Grenada College is a time-consuming activity. However, the Registrar's Office has received a great deal of satisfaction from assuring graduates of these two institutions that their school records are carefully preserved and are available to them. During the past school year, approximately 2,023 transcripts have been issued.

Summary

As soon as one grade report is issued, the Registrar's Office immediately begins the preparation of the next report forms; as soon as one group of transcripts is mailed, the new requests are sorted. The work of the Office may seem to be a matter of endless routine and details, but this conception of the work is not the one held by the Registrar and his staff. We feel that we are not working so much with names, semester hours, and quality points as we are with young men and women and also former students; and that we are helping them in matters which are of utmost importance to them in their education, their happiness, and their well-being.

TOWN AND COUNTRY WORK PROGRAM

Town and Country Work at Millsaps College is the culmination of a long and arduous task! Since the College was organized in 1890, there has been a constant demand for the use of pre-ministerial students as supply pastors. Until 1953 these men were called out to serve as pastors of local churches and charges with no direct training and no supervision except that which could be spared by the already overly busy District Superintendents. In response to this problem, the Town and Country Work Program was begun.

The exact history of the earliest attempts to establish such supervision is not available. The last attempts began in 1949, with increasing support being given it by Dr. N. B. Fleming, Dr. J. D. Wroten, Dr. M. L. Smith, and Dr. Glenn Sanford, of the National Board of Missions, with the approval of Bishop Marvin Franklin. Correspondence with other Conferences and their colleges revealed the fact that almost nothing was being done to meet this nationally recognized need. A plan of pioneer action was proposed and accepted by this group. A person to serve on the College Faculty and to have the responsibility for this work was tentatively selected. Everyone was confident that the program was to be initiated. However, the program did not materialize. In spite of this, the leaders were determined to continue their efforts until success came.

Subsequently, another preparatory meeting was held at Millsaps College. Bishop M. A. Franklin, President Finger, and Dr. Wroten were again joined by Dr. Glenn Sanford from the National Board of Missions. This meeting was attended by the District Superintendents of all the districts in the Jackson Area. All boards and commissions of both Conferences were represented and the Reverend James Sells, of Atlanta, joined in mapping out another attempt to secure such a program.

It was again agreed that the need for such supervision continued and that a pioneering program was to be undertaken. The expense of the program was to be shared by the two Mississippi Conferences, Millsaps College, and the General Board of Missions. The General Board of Education has also given some financial support to the program. The position on the College staff was to be called "Director of Town and Country Work." In addition to teaching the classes designed to meet the needs of student pastors, the Director was to serve as Bible teacher in the Department of Religion.

The program was undertaken in June, 1953, with two courses, Religion 81 and 82, being added to the religion courses. Religion 81 constitutes a study of the total work and organization of the Methodist Church. Religion 82 is a study of the problems and opportunities of the student pastor. All ministerial students serving churches receive some supervision in their work and are visited on their charges by the Director. These week-end visits are arranged by the student with the Director in advance of the date and an annual schedule of such visits is compiled. Thus, each week-end the Director is on the field with a student pastor; and during the week, in addition to other duties at the College, he serves as a resource person for the student pastors.

ATHLETICS

Our varsity athletic program included intercollegiate competition in football, basketball, baseball, tennis, and golf. About 100 men composed the several teams. The football and tennis teams enjoyed an unusually successful season. In football, Millsaps College lost only to Delta State and to Mississippi College, winning the other five games, including a victory over Ouachita College, which had been previously undefeated in six games. Twenty-seven men lettered in football. Of this number only five are seniors.

The tennis team enjoyed one of the best seasons in many years, winning nine of the ten matches played, losing only to the University of Mississippi when the match was played in Oxford. The team tied for the Dixie Conference title and placed third in the Mississippi Intercollegiate Tournament. Of the seven men on the team, none is a senior. Dr. M. C. White has served again this year as tennis coach.

Our basketball team won only one game during the season. Seven players lettered, with only one senior in the group. The baseball team won three games, closing the season with a twin victory over Delta State. Fourteen men won letters in baseball, with five seniors in the number. Better records in both basketball and baseball are expected next year. An addition to our physical education staff will strengthen our whole athletic program.

The intramural program of the College has been enthusiastically received during the year. Seven different organizations participated in the men's intramural league. Approximately 115 players participated in touch football, basketball, softball, tennis, and golf. An Intramural Council has recently been organized from among the participating organizations. Working with this Council to improve our intramural program is the Faculty Committee on Athletics.

The entire program for men students is directed by Mr. Sammy Bartling, Director of Athletics. The women's physical education program has been directed by Miss Jean Sain. Women students have participated in volley ball, softball, and tennis.

It is to be hoped that during the next year ways may be found to construct two new tennis courts on the campus.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

Public Relations for Millsaps College is the responsibility of every person connected in any way with the College — faculty, students, administration, trustees, alumni, Methodist preachers, and laymen. It is believed that the time has now arrived when our entire constituency joins us in promoting our good public relations.

The College is endeavoring to direct the program. Mr. James J. Livesay is the able Director. His work covers a number of general areas:

1) Publicity. More than 550 separate news stories and pictures have been sent to Mississippi's 120 weekly and daily newspapers, two dailies in New Orleans and Memphis, and one daily in Birmingham, The Jackson Advertiser, hometown papers of students living in other states, The Mississippi Methodist Advocate, all of Mississippi's radio stations, and the local television stations. Selected articles have been sent to trade, scientific, and collegiate publications. This is an average of two items per day for every work day and all holidays.

The Director made daily trips to the offices of both newspapers for the purpose of personal contact with city editors and staff members. He took 90% of all pictures. Trips to local business establishments in connection with the processing of pictures and news stories were made each day.

In addition to articles written by the Director and staff, contact was made with newspaper staff writers and interviews with students were arranged. Several feature stories resulted from these contacts.

Still pictures have been furnished television stations for use on newscasts and specialty programs.

2) Publications. Nine publications have been produced this year. The Director and staff compiled and edited the October and May issues of Major Notes, the new alumni publication, and the High School Day Bulletin. He edited the bulletin for the Summer Institute of Alcohol Studies and served as consultant for the Campus Handbook and Student Directory. He supervised mailing and compliance with postal regulations (including report forms for each mailing) on all nine publications handled under the second class mailing permit.

3) Student Recruitment. The Department of Public Relations arranged, through letters mailed in the fall, twenty invitations to Career Days throughout the state. The Director made sixteen trips to high schools on behalf of the College. Appearances included talks of approximately ten minutes duration, distribution of College literature, use of a picture display, and personal counseling with high school students. Approximately 800 students heard general talks and approximately 150 students were contacted personally by the Director. Four of the trips were covered by the Business Manager, the Dean, and the head of the Department of Mathematics.

A follow-up system was utilized to take advantage of personal contacts which seemed promising. The Public Relations Director determined the field of interest of the student and turned his name over to the professor in charge of the department offering subjects in that field, requesting that the professor write the student giving additional information. Because of the very fine cooperation of the Faculty, we feel that the system is proving valuable.

Fifty letters have been written to high school and junior college students containing information concerning the College and inviting further inquiry. Appropriate literature was sent to each individual along with the letter. These contacts were made with persons not seen during Career Day trips.

The Department of Public Relations, working with the Faculty committee, scheduled, planned, and staged High School Day on March 13. In preparation for the day, five hundred letters were mailed to superintendents of accredited high schools; ten thousand letters and ten thousand brochures written and edited by the Director were mailed to high school seniors; and five hundred reminder cards were mailed to senior class presidents and student leaders. Approximately 400 high school seniors were guests of the College during the day, and 231 students took the annual scholarship tests.

At least fifteen separate groups of high school students visiting the College during the year were conducted by the Director on tours of the buildings and grounds, introduced to officials and faculty members, and given material describing the College.

Campus Close-up, the color-sound movie produced by the Department of Public Relations, has been used several times as a student recruitment medium.

Selected high schools have been sent copies of Stylus, the literary magazine, and The Bobashela, College yearbook, for display in their libraries.

4) Alumni Affairs. Working under the title of Executive Director of the Millsaps College Alumni Association, the Public Relations Director served as liaison agent between the College and the Association officers. The primary goal of all activity in this field has been the building of a strong Association and the strengthening of the ties which graduates and former students have with the College.

The following activities and accomplishments may be worthy of attention:

a) Three meetings of the Association have been held since July 1, 1953, and a fourth meeting is scheduled for May 31. In all of these meetings the Director, in cooperation with the Alumni Association officers, planned, publicized, and staged the events. Planning required eight meetings and hours of individual work. In connection with publicity, 6,500 double postcards, 4,000 unsealed letters, and a dozen news stories were mailed. Staging required the clearing of all space requirements, on-the-scene coordination, and a considerable amount of supervision, greeting, speaking, etc. The events were as follows: Homecoming, October 24; MEA Alumni Luncheon, March 19; Alumni Day, May 13; and Graduation Banquet, May 31.

b) An official publication of the Alumni Association has been planned, assembled, and published. A 32-page magazine entitled Major Notes was mailed to approximately 4,000 graduates and former students. The second edition of the school year is just off the press. We plan to publish Major Notes regularly. Around 100 cards, letters, and notes expressing approval of the publication have been received from alumni.

c) Organization of alumni chapters at the county or district level has been set in motion. Two chapters have been organized. They are located in Leflore County and in Memphis, Tennessee. In both instances, officers have been elected and plans made for further meetings.

The Leflore County meeting was attended by the Business Manager and the Public Relations Director, and the Memphis meeting was attended by the President and the Public Relations Director. Campus Close-up, the color-sound movie depicting Millsaps student life, was shown. Advice has been given both groups regarding programing and organization.

Discussions have been held regarding the organization of Grenada and Lauderdale Counties, and other groups have shown interest. Within the next few years, two dozen active groups should be in existence.

One group is considering establishing a county scholarship to Millsaps College; another has decided to promote the invitation of College organizations to its city.

d) For the first time in many years, the alumni files are nearing the status of completion. Every graduate of the College is in the files, and we have begun the task of locating and placing in the files the thousands of persons who attended but did not graduate. With the addition of the class of 1954 to the files, the number of persons receiving degrees from Millsaps totals 3,565. At the present time, of this number, 325 are deceased, 164 are classified lost geographically, and 3,076 are in the active files. This figure does not include former students.

5) Space Reservations. Organizations meeting on the campus which have been handled through the Director of Public Relations include the following: Civil Defense Workshop, June 15-20; Children's Workers Assembly, July 14-16; Methodist Youth Convocation, August 13-15; Little Theater Rehearsals, September 2-3; Regional Committee on Missionary Personnel, September 12; A. A. U. W. Workshop, September 26; Opera Guild Rehearsal, November 3; 4-H Club Meeting, November 13; Methodist Youth Emphasis Meeting, November 30-December 4; Mississippi Latin Conference, December 12; Concordia College Choir, February 12; Columbia University Bi-Centennial Exposition, February 16-28; A. A. U. W. Meeting, February 25; High School Day, March 13; M.E.A. Luncheon, March 19; State Council, A.A.U.P., March 20; Christian Citizenship Seminar, March 21-23; Ole Miss Concert Singers, March 25; Medical Forum, April 1, 8, 15, 22; Tulane-Newcomb Choir, April 2; State Band Festival, April 8-10; Mississippi Academy of Sciences, April 23; State Piano Festival, April 30-May 1; Mississippi Council on Family Relations, May 7-8; and Alumni Day, May 13.

6) Movie Production. A color-sound motion picture has been planned, written, and produced through the Public Relations Department. Although the filming of the movie was completed in the spring of 1953, most of the work took place after July 1, 1953.

The movie, Campus Close-up, was ably directed and narrated by Lance Goss, professor of speech and drama, who gave invaluable assistance throughout its production.

The Director of Public Relations planned the movie, wrote the continuity and developed the plot, assisted in its direction, and was responsible for its mechanical completion. He has arranged for the rental of the special movie projector, picked it up and returned it after each showing, and operated or supervised the operation of the machine each time.

MILLION FOR MILLSAPS CAMPAIGN

Last June the Board of Trustees requested the Annual Conferences of the Methodist Church to launch a financial campaign to raise within the remaining years of this quadrennium (1952-56) a minimum of a million dollars for Millsaps College, one half of which would be used for the increasing of the general endowment and one half for new buildings.

The two Conferences at their June, 1953, meeting authorized the campaign, which was officially launched on January 7, 1954, at a special joint session of the two Conferences. The campaign was a magnificent success. More than $1,000,000 was subscribed and approximately $275,000 in cash has already been received. The total cost of the campaign was approximately $45,000.

Credit for the success of the campaign should go to a multitude of people. The Board of Trustees, at a called meeting, authorized letters of appreciation to Bishop Marvin A. Franklin, Honorary Chairman of the campaign; to Mr. Ben M. Stevens, Sr., General Lay Chairman; and to all the members of the area committee, expressing gratitude for their faithful service. Special mention should be made of the work of hundreds of diligent pastors and the local church lay chairmen. We believe that the campaign was excellent public relations for Millsaps College. We believe further that the campaign has helped not only the College but a large number of churches and churchmen.

The contract for the new library will be let in June. Faculty salaries have been increased and five new faculty members added, none of whom is part-time. All of these improvements are the direct results of the campaign.

As the regular payments on pledges are received, plans can continue to be made for further expansion of the Faculty, a further improvement in the salary schedule, and the construction of additional buildings. It is hoped that enough new money will be forthcoming in these next two years to assure the construction of the new dormitory for men students.

SUMMER SCHOOL

The summer school session is scheduled to open on June 7 and to close August 13.

The summer school Faculty numbers thirty-two, twenty-seven of whom are regular members of the Millsaps College Faculty. The remaining five are visiting instructors. It now appears that summer school enrollment will be as high as that of last year.

MILLSAPS COLLEGE-UNIVERSITY OF MISSISSIPPI CENTER

Inaugurated in the spring of 1951, the Center represents a cooperative effort of the two institutions to provide broader educational opportunities to the citizens of Jackson and the surrounding areas.

During the 1953 summer session, fourteen courses were offered in which 150 students were enrolled. Five members of the regular Millsaps College Faculty participated.

The fall session, 1953-54, attracted 268 students to 22 classes, in which five members of the Millsaps Faculty participated.

The spring enrollment increased to 296 students enrolled in 25 classes. Five members of the Millsaps Faculty participated.

Future plans are to emphasize non-credit courses, and a concerted effort will be made to attract those people in the local area who wish to attend classes without earning college credit.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

During the fiscal year ending this June, we have performed a great number of different jobs of maintenance. The most extensive and most expensive has been painting, which included complete room decorations for Whitworth Hall, Burton Hall, Galloway Hall, and Clark House; the corridors of Sullivan-Harrell; the new office, lounge and restrooms in Murrah; twelve rooms and the showers and porches of Founders; the rooms and corridors in the gymnasium; the bathrooms and all ceilings in Woollard Hall; the interior of the Infirmary; the exterior of the President's home; and numerous other miscellaneous small areas.

Last summer in each room of Burton, Galloway, and Woollard we built permanent study desks and book shelves and installed over each a double electric outlet for lamps and other electrical conveniences. These improvements have probably contributed more toward making these men's dormitory rooms more conducive to study and more convenient than any other physical changes made this year. In Woollard Hall the bathtubs were removed from the two upstairs bathrooms and shower stalls were put in. Four window fans were put in the Library on the second story level to help give the occupants some relief from the summer heat. These fans have been moved to the old Murrah Auditorium for this summer. We have sold all the old seats from that auditorium and the temporary library is being set up there for use during the current library building program. During the past few weeks we have constructed 1,860 feet of temporary book shelving in Murrah Auditorium. These are being supplemented by movable shelves from the Library.

During early spring the College planted seventy seedling trees as a continuation of our annual program of replacement of trees. Mr. I. H. Bass, of Lumberton, Mississippi, gave the College 200 fine pecan seedlings. This generous gift was used to begin reforestation of the wooded lanes on the College golf course.

During the year it has been necessary to have a roof repair company do some emergency work on Galloway, Burton, Sullivan-Harrell, and the Music Hall. A new roof was put on Clark House, and this building is being used as a place for teaching secretarial science courses. The gutters of the gym and the metal cornice at the east end of Sullivan-Harrell have to be repaired.

A new tractor has been purchased to replace the obsolete one we were using for pulling the mowers. The Business Office has a new two-total posting machine. Three new electric water coolers have been installed — one in Whitworth, one in Woollard, and one in the Grill. Four new calculating machines and six typewriters have been added to the equipment of the Department of Economics and Business Administration. Forty new classroom arm chairs and two new tape recorders have been added to our classroom teaching equipment. Last year the chemistry department bought two new balances; this year they have added one more in an effort to have the most modern equipment for premedical training.

In January the gas rates in Jackson were increased by a flat rate of seven and one-half cents per thousand cubic feet. This meant, of course, that the large users would have a larger percentage increase in their accounts. Based on our gas usage for the last fiscal year, this increase will raise our costs from $4350 to $6100 for gas, an increase of 40%. For this coming year the change will be offset for budget purposes by the fact that the Library building is under construction and by the installation of additional thermostatic controls. For future years, however, we must give this item its due consideration when calculating the utilities budget.

Members of the Board are familiar with the many details necessary in the operation of a business office; therefore it seems unnecessary to enumerate all the statistics of the College Business Office activity. The amounts of cash handled through the cashier's desk, however, should be mentioned, since the budget does not adequately reflect the actual dollar turnover. During the ten months period from July 1, 1953, through April 30, 1954, the total of receipts by check and cash was $478,092.06; the total of payments was $583,142.19; and the total of checks cashed across the counter was $43,902.50. This means that the Business Office handled during that period $1,105,136.75. The excess of expenditures over income is accounted for by balances in the bank at the beginning and end of the period and by advances from the endowment income account.

It seems significant that the Business Office has this volume of cash and check activity in addition to the bookkeeping, reporting, and numerous other details of operations. In addition to the Business Manager, there are two full-time clerks and one student helper. The cashier has been working in that office seven years; the bookkeeper four years. With the installation of a Dean of Students office last summer the Business Office was able to reduce its staff by one full-time clerk. We will continue to strive for economy in our operations.

BUDGET

The proposed budget for 1954-55, attached to this report, has been approved by the Finance Committee. The new budget represents an increase of almost $20,000 over that of last year.

The increase makes possible the addition of four new faculty members and one part-time instructor. There have been slight improvements in the salary schedule for all faculty members who have been on the Faculty for as long as two years.

Church Support

The next year will be a crucial one for the Church support of the current budget. It appears that we will receive approximately $50,000 this year, $10,000 of which comes through Conference benevolences and $40,000 direct from the churches. The same amount is budgeted next year. It is believed that the District Superintendents and pastors understand that this support must be continued, along with the Million for Millsaps payment, so that the College can be lifted to a higher level of service.

RECOMMENDATIONS

It is recommended that the Board of Trustees:

1. Approve the promotion of Mr. Sam Knox to associate professor.

2. Approve a leave of absence for Mr. George Maddox for the next two years.

3. Approve the appointment of Mr. Harry Dillingham as acting assistant professor of sociology.

4. Approve the appointment of Mr. Sam Jones as student director of the band.

5. Approve the appointment of Mr. Harmon Tillman as instructor of speech.

6. Approve the promotion of Dr. J. S. Ferguson from Acting Dean to Dean.

7. Approve the awarding of degrees to those candidates for graduation who have completed all the requirements.

8. Approve the budget for 1954-55.

9. Approve the employment of Faculty and staff for 1954-55 as their names appear in the report, with the salaries designated.

10. Approve the extension of leave of absence of Dr. Riecken for an additional year with full pay.

11. Approve this report as a whole.

CONCLUSION

There are good reasons to believe that Millsaps College is on the eve of her most useful days. Unquestionably, the opportunities are limitless; the demand is inescapable. However good higher education has been, it must even yet be improved. The Church colleges of America, though few in number and limited in enrollment, have had an influence on the life of our nation. The need for education within the framework of the Christian faith is paramount.

Millsaps College stands strategically and proudly in the heart of Mississippi, eager to serve the people of this state. This College represents Methodism's responsibility for training laymen and ministers alike for usefulness. The multitude of Methodists have a higher appreciation for their College than ever before. As this interest matures, we can confidently expect even more substantial support of every kind — both financial and spiritual.

A LIMB FOR THE FACULTY

"BIRDS OF A FEATHER FLOCK TOGETHER"

Heading the list of those persons who promote the welfare of Millsaps are her efficient administrative officers, who have sincere interest in the college and her student body.

Dr. Ellis Finger, Jr., became President of Millsaps College in 1952. In the short time that he has been here he has won the respect and the admiration of both students and faculty. From beginning to end, President Finger has proved himself to be a staunch supporter of Millsaps, for it was here that he received his A.B. degree. Later he received his B.D. degree from Yale University, did advanced graduate study at Union Theological Seminary, and this year received an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree from Centenary College.

Serving as Dean of the college is Dr. James Ferguson, who is held in high esteem by all with whom he comes in contact. Especially is this true with his closest associates — his students. Graduating from Millsaps with an A.B. degree, Dr. Ferguson received his A.M. degree from Louisiana State University, and his Ph.D. from the University of North Carolina. Later he attended Yale University as a Ford Scholar.

Dr. J. E. McCracken joined the staff of Millsaps in 1953. He is an efficient Dean of Students as well as an understanding one to whom the students feel free to take their various problems. He received his B.S. degree from Muskingum College, and his A.M. and Ph.D. degrees from Ohio State University.

This is the second year for Miss Mildred Morehead to serve as Millsaps' Dean of Women. She is a competent adviser of the Woman's Council and the dependable friend of all Millsaps co-eds. Having acquired her A.B. degree from Mississippi State College for Women, Miss Morehead attended Duke University, where she received an A.M. degree. Since receiving this degree she has done further graduate study at University of Colorado and Columbia University.

Well-qualified to hold the position of Registrar is Professor Paul Hardin, who becomes the first friend of Millsaps' newly-enrolled students. He received his A.B. degree from Millsaps College, and his A.M. degree from Duke University. Further graduate work has been done at the University of Southern California.

The finances of Millsaps College are under the capable supervision of Mr. J. W. Wood, Business Manager. Mr. Wood became a member of the administration in 1947. He received his B.S. degree from Mississippi State College.

To the Students of Millsaps College:

We are honored that you are at Millsaps College. I assure you that we will do our utmost to give you the high quality of education which you deserve.

It is our conviction at Millsaps that together we learn—instructors and students. Together we become better informed about our world, our tradition, ourselves. Together we endeavor to determine what we can and should do with our lives and with our opportunities.

We hope therefore that you the students and we the faculty and administration can come rapidly to know one another, for it is from these friendships that learning results. Our friendships will be enriched as we become acquainted with great thinkers of other days and of our own times.

I urge you to take full advantage of every day of your college life. The thorough use of all your opportunities means a more exciting future and a greater usefulness.

The door of the President's office, though temporarily closed at intervals, can always be opened. I invite you to come by to see me, at your convenience, to consider any matter that concerns you.

With every good wish for a profitable and pleasant year, I am

H. E. Finger, Jr.
President

To the New Students of Millsaps:

It is a privilege and a pleasure for me to welcome you to Millsaps. I commend you on your selection of schools; you could not have chosen more wisely.

Millsaps has an enviable record in the academic field. Her students have gone out to become outstanding in numerous fields of endeavor. We are proud of Millsaps, her tradition, her administration, her faculty and her purpose, which is to prepare students to face the challenges of life in the true spirit of Christian manhood and womanhood.

Your primary purpose in coming to college is to pursue the various courses offered you and from this purpose you will not want to deviate. However, I want to encourage and invite you to participate in the various extracurricular activities on the campus, for it is from this participation that you will derive a goodly portion of interest in your school, sense a feeling of unity among the students, and contribute to the over-all spirit of the campus.

Millsaps is your school now and I urge you to bring any problems or suggestions that you might have concerning the student body to me or to any other member of the Student Executive Board.

Again, I say, with genuine sincerity, welcome to Millsaps. May your stay here be pleasant and fruitful.

Sincerely,
Howell Polk
President Student Body

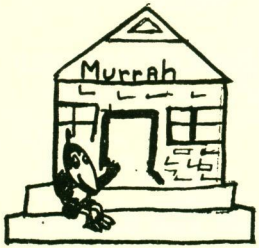
A LIMB FOR CAMPUS CHATTER



BEHOLD THE NEST

Millsaps College, a fully accredited, co-educational, liberal arts college of the Methodist Church, was founded sixty-four years ago. The college opened its doors in the fall of 1892 with William B. Murrah as its first president.

The enrollment at that time was 149; now approximately 750 students attend Millsaps. The original campus consisted of just seventy acres; today Millsaps is situated on ninety-four acres of rolling terrain about one mile north of the main business district of Jackson.

Millsaps, recognized by all appropriate accrediting agencies, has been a member of the Southern Association of Colleges since 1912. It is on the fully approved list of the American Association of University Women.

Here young men and women are trained to become Christian leaders in their respective communities. Here lasting friendships and precious memories are gained. Here education in a Christian atmosphere is offered. Here is the youth's ideal of a college home.

It has been said that independent institutions of the type of Millsaps are "bulwarks of democracy." We students of Millsaps point with pride to our college, which plays a vital part in the growth of a nation.

AND THESE ARE THE BIRDHOUSES

Murrah Hall—The administration building houses classrooms, administrative offices, and a small auditorium.

Christian Center—Here one not only meets classes, but also in its acoustically perfect auditorium one attends a variety of programs. These include plays, conventions, lectures, and concerts. Fitzhugh Memorial Chapel is always open for meditation and prayer.

Sullivan-Harrell Hall—The science building has classrooms and spacious laboratories for all types of science subjects.

Carnegie-Millsaps Library—With the library building being remodeled and the books located temporarily in Murrah Auditorium, the library does not this year have space and facilities to offer students a quiet place for study. It does, however, continue to circulate books and provide access to reference books and periodicals.

Buie Gymnasium—A wide variety of athletic events takes place in the gymnasium and on surrounding athletic fields. Here may be found intramural and intercollegiate contests in season.

Grill—The "cubbyhole" underneath the gymnasium is packed and jammed many hours of the day with students seeking not only sandwiches, ice cream, or soft drinks, but also friendly arguments, juke box music, and exciting bridge games. A book store and the post office are combined with the Grill.

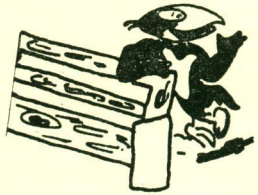
James Observatory—The observatory is used by astronomy classes. Many visitors look at the stars during observatory open nights.

The College Cafeteria—A central gathering place for students is the cafeteria, located to the rear of Galloway Hall.

Women's Residence Halls—Three dormitories, Whitworth, Sanders, and Founders, offer comfortable living facilities for co-eds.

Men's Residence Halls—Men students live not only in Burton, Galloway, and Woollard dormitories, but also in the four fraternity houses.

Infirmary—Students' aches and pains are checked by a Registered Nurse in the infirmary.



A COLLEGE BIRD CHIRPS

CHATTER DATA

Now if you're walking about the Millsaps campus, little freshman, make sure your eyes are as big as saucers and your ears are flapping in the breeze. Beware, for there's much to be seen and there's more to be heard!

Before you venture into the dazzling sunlight of our fair campus, here's a bit of Chatter Data to lend brilliance to your own small self. Amaze the upper classmen and rave forth with some first-class Millsaps expressions.

It's a must, but definitely, to know about cuts. They're known to ordinary folks as "absences from class." But here's a little something new—three tardies equal one cut! So 'tis best you rise with the birdies and not overdo those precious cuts.

Another important item, not necessarily new, is the quiz, an announced test covering specific material. A variation of this is the pop test, which is completely unannounced! It might be added that this type of test is extremely popular with many professors and decidedly unpopular with all students.

Become familiar with this term—SEB. It's important! To the educated it means Student Executive Board of the Millsaps College Student Association. Representatives from various campus organizations compose this board, whose job is to operate student affairs.

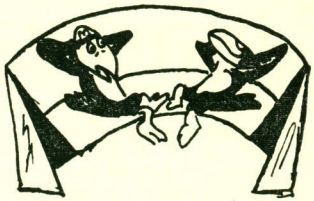
Nope, a local grillhound isn't a dog. To be quite frank, he is a student who hangs around the Grill long enough to be considered a permanent fixture.

This information being distributed so freely wouldn't be complete without mentioning pinning, that all important ceremony—not open to the public—which changes the resting place of a fraternity pin from his sport shirt to her sweater. A Millsaps tradition is that the fraternity and the sorority exchange gifts of candy and cigars. The fraternity usually gets the cigars.

In the old days, (before the modern system of campus lighting, that is) the M Bench was an appropriate location for the above mentioned ceremony. Today, however, it is more frequently used by students as a place to park their books while at lunch or to park their bodies for between-class chats.

Last and least in the vocabulary of all good Millsaps students is the word Choctaws. This term applies to any and all students at Mississippi College, our traditional rival in almost everything.

A PEEP AT TRADITIONS



Let's face it—a college has its specific traditions, and follow them we must!

As freshmen we don Grandma's flapper dress or Grandpa's striped vest and parade around the campus like maniacs on the tear. That's tradition! Confidentially, though, we'll have to admit that Freshman Day offers pecks of laughter and bushels of fun for everyone.

Behold Stunt Night! Social organizations gather their talented lads and lasses to present skits and hits to the student body. The coveted prize—guess what—a big tin Bucket! That's tradition for you, folks.

All work and no play makes any lad a dull boy; therefore, it's traditional that at least once a year both faculty members and students toss their books into the air, don their play togs, and spend one whole day in fun and frolic. This is known as Millsaps' Play Day.

To moan and groan, to sigh and cry over comprehensives is a must for all college seniors. First comes the midnight oil, next the comprehensives, and last, but not least, that prized sheepskin.

A tradition that takes to the high notes and low notes is the annual Song Fest. That's the big night when social organizations tune up to compete for those all-important trophies.

Students cast their votes, ballots are counted, folks hold their breath, and winners of the titles Master Major and Miss Millsaps are announced. Quite an honor for two seniors and definitely a Millsaps tradition!

Going to and from classes, all Millsaps students flash big, bright smiles and huge "hellos," for tradition maintains that this is the friendliest of friendly campuses.

Each year students and faculty members pause in activities to participate in Religious Emphasis Week. During this time inventories are taken and new dedications are made.

Here traditions—there traditions—everywhere traditions, but we must confess that without them we'd be missing half the fun of college life!

A LIMB FOR GENERAL INFORMATION

THE WISE OLD OWL SPEAKS ABOUT DORM LIFE

Let your dormitory be more than a place "to hang your hat." It is your college home and should be thought of as such.

Every effort is made to encourage warm and friendly fellowship through the life in the various dormitories. The extent to which you, as a student and as an individual, will gain from such experiences will depend upon your participation and cooperation in making your dorm a more desirable place in which to live.

The college assumes legal responsibility for you as a dormitory student, and in turn, your responsibility to the college is to abide by its regulations.

Any freshmen who are not residents of Jackson or its environs must live in a dormitory during the entire first semester.

A Word To The Men

DO:

1. Conduct yourselves in a manner which will benefit the entire resident group.
2. Observe quiet hours during normal study time in the afternoons and at night.
3. Recognize that "the rules of the college require from every student decorous, sober, and upright conduct as long as he remains a member of the college."

DON'T:

1. Use or possess intoxicating beverages at any time, anywhere while enrolled in Millsaps College. The fact that this is forbidden is stated plainly in the academic regulations.
2. That's right, don't gamble in the dormitories. Definitely, gambling in any form is not permitted.

And Now To The Women

— A Chirp of Advice

All women residents are governed by the Woman's Council regulations.

Woman's Council Regulations

A. Closing hours:

1. Dormitories for women will close as follows:
   a. At 10:00 P.M. on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.
   b. At 11:00 P.M. on Friday.
   c. At 12:00 P.M. on Saturday.
2. Only those women who have scheduled SEB formal parties may have until 1:00 A.M., with the provision that they are not to take their night in town at the same time. For these parties chaperones must be designated and accepted.
3. During the first semester, freshman women may have the same privileges that upper-class women have on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights. Of the other four nights of the week, freshmen may choose one night until 10:00 P.M., but must be in their dormitories at 8:00 o'clock on the other three evenings. During the second semester, freshmen who have made a 2-point (B) average at the end of the first semester may have the same privileges that upperclass women have.
4. Any upper-class woman who has failed to make a 1-point (C) average for a semester must during the next semester follow the first semester freshman rules.

B. Registration:

1. A student who leaves the campus at any time must register her destination and the probable time of her return. Upon her return, she shall sign in.
2. A student who expects guests must notify her dormitory hostess accordingly. She must also register for her guest, who during her stay must abide by the house rules.
3. Students must have special permission from their parents for trips other than to their homes. They may have blanket permission for trips to their homes.
4. Students may spend one night each month in town with the permission of their dormitory hostess and with the provision that the hostess in town shall call the dormitory hostess by 7:00 P.M. and notify her of the invitation.

C. House Rules:

1. A maid will clean the rooms once each week, but women are required to keep their rooms neat at all times.
2. Quiet must be maintained as follows:
   a. Between 8:00 and 10:00 P.M. and after 11:00 P.M. on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

b. After 11:15 P.M. on Friday.
c. After 12:15 A.M. on Saturday.

3. Radios must be turned off at 11:00 P.M. (12:00 Saturday night) and must be kept reasonably low at all times.

4. There shall be no telephone calls except emergency or long distance calls after 10:30 P.M. on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, and after 11:00 P.M. on Friday and Saturday. Women who wish to make long distance calls must reverse the charges.

5. Local dates are not permitted in dormitories before 1:00 P.M. on Saturdays and Sundays nor before 3:00 P.M. on all other days; however, dates from a distance may come into the dormitories at any time with permission of the dormitory hostess.

6. Cooking and ironing in rooms and hanging clothes in windows are not permitted. There shall be no talking from windows. Wearing shorts is not permitted in the Grill, in the "M" Club Room, or on the campus generally, but is permitted on athletic fields or in the gym and on picnics.

7. Women shall not visit men's dormitories or fraternity houses except upon formal invitations to parties where proper chaperones are provided. Similarly, boys must not visit sorority houses except under similar conditions. Both men and women must notify the Dean of Women what chaperones will be present.

General Information

In the women's halls laundry is picked up and brought back each week by a local laundry. In the men's dormitories student representatives pick up and deliver laundry and dry cleaning.

All dormitories will be closed throughout the Christmas holiday period.

THE WISE OLD OWL SPEAKS ABOUT BOOKS

The wise old owl wants to remind you that the library is yours. Become familiar with it and make use of it. You'll be amazed at how helpful a little supplementary reading can be in most of your courses, and once the library building can again be occupied, you'll find no better place for a few hours of intensive study.

Also the library offers shelves and shelves of books for the ardent reader and for that freshman writing his term paper.

Your Library Handbook explains in detail those rules with which the library user should become familiar.

Library Hours

Monday - Thursday	8 A. M. - 7 P. M.
Friday	8 A. M. - 5 P .M.
Saturday	9 A. M. - 12 Noon
	1 P. M. - 4 P. M.

YES, THE "EARLY BIRD GETS THE WORM!"

Cafeteria

Hop out of bed, dash to the cafeteria, and gulp down a warm breakfast. That's the way to begin your school day at Millsaps.

When the clock's hands point to twelve, it's time for lunch. Students proceed cafeteria-style to select the food of their choice.

Supper is at 5:15 P. M., and students take time out to relax a bit and to chat across the table with classmates.

To tip the newcomer off about the opening and closing of cafeteria doors, we suggest that he make a mental note of the following hours:

Cafeteria Hours

Dinner	11:30 - 1:15

   a. A regular student is permitted to audit one course per semester without additional charge.
   b. Other persons may be admitted as auditors upon payment of the same charge that would be required for special students.
   c. An auditor must have the approval of the instructor involved and of the Dean and must be enrolled by the Registrar.
   d. The student's enrollment card shall be marked "Audit" for the course or courses involved.
   e. An auditor is not required to take examinations or to fulfill other assigned class duties and cannot at any time receive credit for such a course unless he later enrolls for the course and takes it on a credit basis.
2. A student may repeat a course for which he has previously earned credit. The grade made when the course is repeated will appear on the student's record in addition to the grade originally made, but no additional credit or quality points will be given. The student's enrollment card shall be marked "Repeat" when he enrolls for such a course. A student repeating a course is expected to take all tests and examinations and fulfill all other assigned duties and is subject to the absence regulations.

3. A student desiring to change from the status of "Repeat" to "Audit," or vice versa, shall follow the procedure outlined above for changes of schedule. No such change will be permitted after midsemester.
4. If a student enrolls for a course for which he already has credit without indicating either "Audit" or "Repeat," he shall be regarded as repeating rather than auditing the course.

D. Withdrawal from the College

1. A student desiring to withdraw from college within any term or semester must fill out a Withdrawal Card and secure on it the approval of the Dean or Registrar.
2. No refund will be considered unless this written notice is procured and presented to the Business Office. Refunds upon withdrawal will be made only upon the terms specified in the catalog under the heading "Financial Regulations."
3. A student who withdraws from college after the first two weeks of a semester is recorded as WP (withdrawn passing) or WF (withdrawn failing) in each course.
4. The college reserves the right to cancel the registration of any student at any time. Enforced withdrawal is inflicted by the faculty, its committees, or the administrative officers for habitual delinquency in class, habitual idleness, dishonesty, or any other fault which prevents the student from fulfilling his obligation to the college.

V. Attendance Regulations

A student who has not been placed on either academic or attendance probation has the privilege of being absent from classes on occasions which necessitate such absences. The intent of this privilege is that students with good academic standing are expected to be prompt and regular in attendance, but do not have to secure the approval of the Dean for each absence incurred. The specific regulations pertaining to students in this classification are as follows:

A. All students are expected to be regular and prompt in their attendance upon classes. Each student is, therefore, required to accept full responsibility for his own class attendance. If a student is absent from a class four successive times without an explanation to the Dean, he will be placed on attendance probation.

B. All students are required to attend classes on the two days immediately preceding and those immediately following a regularly scheduled vacation period.

1. Students absent on such days will be placed on attendance probation.
2. In order to be removed from this attendance probation, a student must submit a written statement concerning his absence to the Dean, accompanied by a written statement from a physician to certify that the student was sufficiently ill to be unable to attend his classes.
3. Absences from classes on these days for any other reason than certified illness may be approved only by action of the Administrative Committee or by vote of the faculty of the college.

C. If a student is absent from an assigned test, he must obtain written permission from the Dean in order to take a make-up test. The request for this permission must be submitted in writing to the Dean within one week after the student returns to classes.

D. Absence from Examinations:

1. An absence from a final examination may be excused by the Dean only on the basis of illness on the day of the examination. The illness must be certified by a written statement by a physician to the effect that the student was sufficiently ill to be unable to attend the examination.
2. Absence from an examination due to dire emergencies other than illness may be excused only by action of the Administrative Committee of the college or by vote of the faculty acting upon written request.
3. Students missing examinations must submit their written excuses within two weeks of the absence. The special examination, if granted, must be held within the first six weeks of the subsequent semester.

E. Chapel Attendance:

Regular chapel attendance is required of all students one day each week. Any student who is absent from chapel three or more times in one semester will be required to offer a written explanation of his absences to the Dean. If this explanation is not satisfactory, the student will be placed on probation, and a penalty of hours and quality points may be imposed.

VI. Attendance Regulations for Probationary Students

A. All excuses for absences are issued by the Dean.

B. If an absence is necessary, the probationary student is urged to confer with the Dean before missing class. In case of an emergency where it is not feasible to see the Dean before the absence, the student should bring a written excuse to the Dean within one week after returning to classes.

C. Excuses for absences due to illness should be supported by signed statements of the physician or the nurse in attendance.

D. Penalties for unexcused absences will normally take the form of deductions of hours and quality points earned by the student at Millsaps College according to the following formula:

Classes of fifty minutes duration:

Unexcused absences	Penalty
3	One credit hour and one quality point
5	Two credit hours and two quality points
8	Three credit hours and three quality points
11	Four credit hours and four quality points

For each additional three absences there is a penalty of one additional credit hour and one quality point.

Classes or independent laboratory courses of seventy-five minutes or longer duration:

Unexcused absences	Penalty
2	One credit hour and one quality point
3	Two credit hours and two quality points
5	Three credit hours and three quality points
7	Four credit hours and four quality points

For each additional two absences there is a penalty of one additional credit hour and one quality point.

VII Examinations

A. Course Examinations

1. Examinations at the end of the semester shall be two hours in length.
2. The examination at the end of the semester counts approximately one-third of the final grade.
3. Dishonesty on tests or examinations shall result in suspension from the course with an "F" and may result in suspension from the college at the discretion of the Advisory Committee or the Dean.
4. Seniors may be exempt from final examinations in all subjects in which they maintain a grade of "C". These exemptions are allowed only at the end of the semester in which they take the comprehensive examination for graduation. Under no circumstances may a student be exempt from any examinations in more than one term or semester.
5. Seniors may be allowed one and only one special examination in any subject taken and failed in the senior year. No other student may be allowed to take a re-examination.

B. Comprehensive Examinations

1. To receive a degree from Millsaps College, a student must pass a satisfactory comprehensive examination in his major field of study.

2. The time for comprehensive examinations given during the spring semester shall be the first week in May of each year.
3. The comprehensive examination is taken during the student's senior year. Further information may be found in the catalog.

C. English Proficiency Examination

1. Before receiving any degree, each student is required to demonstrate proficiency in English composition and usage by writing a theme under the supervision of the English Department. Opportunity to demonstrate this proficiency is given in the first semester of the junior year or during the first semester of residence for more advanced transfers.
2. Students whose work is judged as substandard are assigned to a member of the English faculty for supervision.

VIII Academic Status

A. Honors

1. The Dean's Honor List
   Those meeting the following requirements are honored by inclusion on the Dean's List:
   a. The student must carry not less than 12 academic hours during the semester on which the scholastic average is based;
   b. The student must have a quality-point average for the preceding semester of 2.00;
   c. The student must have no mark lower than a "D" for the preceding semester;
   d. The student must be, in the judgment of the Dean, a good citizen of the college community.
2. Honors at Graduation
   For honors at graduation the quality index required is 2.00. For high honors at graduation a quality index of 2.70 is required and a grade of "Excellent" on the comprehensive examination. Honors or high honors may be refused a student who, in the judgment of the faculty, has forfeited his right to them.
3. The Founders Medal is awarded annually to the senior who has the highest quality index for his entire college course and has received a grade of "Excellent" on his comprehensive examination. Only students who have done entirely at Millsaps College all the work required for the degree are eligible for this award.
4. Other medals and awards available to qualifying underclassmen are described in detail in the catalog.

B. Probation

1. Academic Probation
   Students who pass enough work to remain in college but make in any semester a quality index of less than 0.5 will be placed on probation. In order to be removed from probation, a student must make a quality index of 1.0 during a regular semester or on 12 semester hours of work at Millsaps in a summer session.

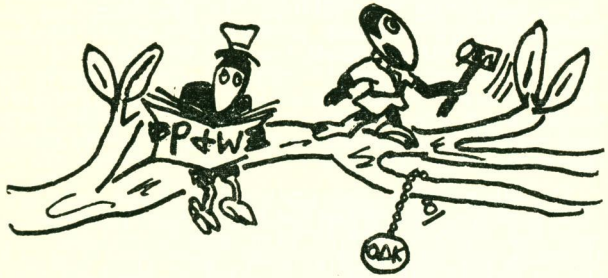
2. Attendance Probation
   a. Upon the recommendation of the instructor involved, a student may be placed on probation in a course in which his irregular attendance endangers his academic standing in the course. Probationary rules apply to such a student only in the course in which he is reported as being on attendance probation.
   b. Any student who is absent from any class for four consecutive times without satisfactory explanation to the Dean will be placed on attendance probation by the Dean.
3. Disciplinary Probation
   Students guilty of serious infractious of the regulations of the college may at the discretion of the appropriate dean or faculty committee be placed on disciplinary probation. Probationary attendance regulations will apply for such a student in all courses in which he is enrolled.

C. Academic Failure

1. To remain in college a freshman must pass six hours of academic work in the first semester.
2. After the first half year a student must pass at least nine hours of academic work each semester to continue in college.
3. Students who are requested not to re-enter because of academic failure may petition in writing for readmission, but such petition will not be granted unless convincing evidence is presented that the failure was due to unusual causes of a non-recurring nature and that the student probably will remain a satisfactory record during the subsequent semester.



A LIMB FOR ORGANIZATIONS, PUBLICATIONS AND HONORARIES

PERCHED ON THE TIP-TOP BRANCHES

Actually there are numerous types of hair-pulling, nerve-racking elections. We read about this election for governor or that election for president, but the election of all elections is the one for our Student Executive Officers which occurs each spring at our own liberal arts college! Colorful banners float in the air, convincing posters decorate the trees, and hopeful smiles adorn the candidates' faces. Everybody hustles and bustles to convince everybody else that "So-and-So is the man for the job."

The all-important day arrives and to the polls Millsaps students hop! When the ballots have been counted and the winners' names have been announced SEB elections are over until another year. Then new officers begin striving to fill the shoes of "old hands." And a lot of fun and experience have been gained by those students who urged their classmates to "Trip on over to the polls and vote for Joe Dokes—the man who knows the ropes!"

Now for an introduction to your 1954-1955 SEB officers. They're here to listen to your problems and to accept any suggestions you might offer concerning better student government.

Howell Polk, a senior who hails from Corinth, is your president. He's a man with much experience, for he has previously served as an SEB member, as the president of the Interfraternity Council, and as the president of Kappa Sigma, social fraternity. He is now treasurer of that organization.

One step behind the president is your capable vice-president, Joe Ebersole, a junior from Jackson. He is affiliated with Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity and he has previously served as an officer. Joe is a member of the Singers, the Psychological Society, and the Debate Club. Active in campus publications, he is a staff member of the Purple and White.

Martha Ann Selby, a senior English major from Charleston, fills the office of secretary-treasurer. A busy little miss, Martha Ann is president of Kappa Delta Epsilon, national honorary, and of Beta Sigma Omicron Sorority. Also she serves as vice-president of the Panhellenic Council and she holds membership in Eta Sigma Phi and the Majorette Club.

TO HOP FROM LIMB TO LIMB

The campus offers many and varied organizations for those students who are eager to participate in out-of-class activities. In order to receive the fullest benefit from college life and to take advantage of the program offered for personal development, a student is encouraged to enter into the clubs to which he feels he can contribute most fully his enthusiasm, time, and talent.

It must be pointed out, however, that "putting fingers into too many pies" will only lead to down-hill grades and hair-pullings because a student suddenly finds he must be here, there, and everywhere at the same time.

Freshmen, select the clubs of your choice and budget your time between studies and extracurricular activities.

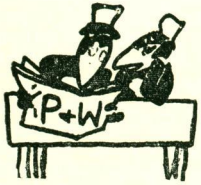
ADVICE IN A NUTSHELL

The Lady Speaks

Bettye Jo Powell
President of Woman's Council

The Woman's Council, a self-governing organization, is composed of representatives from the women's residence halls and from five women's social organizations.

All women residents are governed by the regulations and restrictions which are established by the Woman's Council. These regulations are reviewed annually and revised as necessary. There are specific penalties for violations of rules.



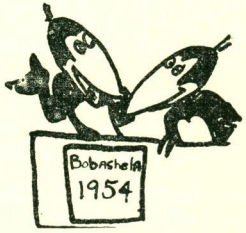
WITH PEN AND INK

The Purple and White

Johnny Morris, Editor
George Hunt, Business Manager

For the literary-minded there is the campus weekly newspaper, the Purple and White. The staff welcomes any new talent and will be glad to help any aspiring, but struggling young writers. If a writer does well enough, he can earn two extracurricular hours a year towards graduation.

Bobashela



Walter Ely, Editor
Fred Blumer, Business Manager

Also there is the college annual, the Bobashela (the word means "good friend" in Choctaw). The annual is a photographic view of campus life. If you are willing to work hard, this is the job for you.

If you can't write but would like to work with either the paper or the annual, join one of their business staffs.

Stylus

(Editor and Business Manager to be elected)

Another Millsaps publication is Stylus, a literary magazine published bi-annually. No, it doesn't contain the plays of Shakespeare nor the poems of Wordsworth. Within the bindings of this little booklet are prized works of the college's talented young writers. All students who have the yen to write are urged to submit their poems, essays, or short stories to Stylus.

WITH MUSIC IN YOUR VEINS

Millsaps Singers

(President to be elected)
"Pop" King, Director

If there is one indispensable organization on the campus, it is the Millsaps Singers under the capable direction of Mr. Alvin Jon King, usually known as "Pop" King.

Each spring the Singers board Greyhound buses for an annual tour of two weeks. Pop and his chirpers carry the name of Millsaps far and wide; therefore, we consider them our best advertisers. They have also brought many honors to the college.

Pop encourages everyone who can "carry a tune in a bucket" to try for the Singers, because it takes equally as much hard work as talent to develop a good choral group.

Band

Sam Jones

Student Band Director

The Millsaps Band offers an excellent opportunity for any one who toots a horn or beats a drum.

Last fall football trips were made to Memphis and Birmingham. Half-time shows were presented at all home games.

The band also has a well-balanced concert program each year.

Beethoven Club

(President to be elected)

Membership in the Beethoven Club is primarily for those students who enjoy music and fellowship with other music lovers.

The purpose of this organization is to promote music appreciation and understanding.

Millsaps Players

Lance Goss, Director

Step right up, ladies and gentlemen; don't be timid. Try out for a Millsaps Players' production and have the time of your life!

If you don't possess acting ability, there's still work to be done and fun to be had. Back-stage lend a hand to making-up the stars, painting the flats, or hunting for props.

Each year the Players, one of the most active groups on the campus, presents three major productions and three one-act student-directed plays.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Lance Goss, head of the Speech Department, Millsaps Players has won much favorable recognition for the school.

WITH GOOD WILL IN MIND

Women Christian Workers

Claudette Westerfield, President

The Women Christian Workers, better known as the WCW, is an organization primarily for those girls interested in vocations of a religious nature. The WCW provides a means through which its members may participate in service projects on and off the campus. Through affiliation with this group, one gains fellowship, guidance, and inspiration.

Ministerial League

Warren Wasson, President

All ministerial students are urged to become active members of an organization which marches forward to promote campus-wide fellowship and spiritual freshness. Also the Ministerial League sponsors, with the aid of the WCW, mission points in the city. In this manner the students are able to help others, thereby gaining experience and spiritual strength for themselves.

YWCA

Lucy Robinson, President

Every Millsaps co-ed should be a member of the campus YWCA, an organization committed to Christian beliefs and high standards. Playing an important part in campus activities, the "Y" meets bi-monthly and its commissions meet weekly. These commissions plan and promote new projects to help the student and Millsaps College. This handbook is one of the important projects of the "Y."

Christian Council

Reggie Lowe, President

The Christian Council is the co-ordinating unit of the various denominational groups on the campus. Its membership is composed of representatives from these organizations. The Council's most outstanding project is the sponsoring of Religious Emphasis Week. During this time a prominent religious leader, familiar with youth and their problems, addresses the student body.

Fly to Your Own Limb

Millsaps' denominational groups are scheduled to meet bi-weekly in order that the members of various churches may participate in educational as well as inspirational programs and become better acquainted with other students whose church affiliations are the same as theirs. It might be added that numerous worth-while projects are sponsored by these organizations.

There definitely is a special nook for you, so fly to it and make yourself at home!

The limb for Methodist students is the Methodist Student Movement (Wesley Foundation). The Baptist perch is the Baptist Student Union. Episcopalians flock to the Canterbury Club, and Presbyterians participate in Westminster Fellowship. Catholic students gather on the Newman Club branch.

A TAP ON THE SHOULDER

A Chirp About Tap Day

Now Tap Day is a day designated by S E B which comes but once a semester. When you have become a second semester sophomore and a well-deserving one, you just might receive a tap on the shoulder during chapel period and down the aisle you'll be led to become a member of one of the national honoraries which recognize the activities and the scholastic achievements of college students. For the remainder of this all important day, tappees proudly sport their ribbons to indicate that Tap Day was Their Day!

Omicron Delta Kappa

(President to be elected)

The honorary which is considered "top-notch" for Millsaps men is ODK, a national fraternity whose members are the outstanding leaders from main campus activities. When you become a member of this organization, you are in line to receive not only a tap, but also a well-deserved pat on the shoulder. Indeed, to be tapped into ODK is the highest honor a man can attain at Millsaps. The local chapter originates and initiates many constructive campus projects.

Sigma Lambda

Fredda Shelton, President

The co-eds are not to be outdone; therefore, Millsaps offers Sigma Lambda membership to those young ladies who have gained prominence in campus activities. Invitations to become affiliated with this group, however, must have the unaminous approval of its regular members. The student body enjoys Sigma Lambda's weekly coffee hour.

Kit Kat

Membership of I.R.C. is composed of outstanding students in the fields of history and political science. During the year, it sponsors a series of open forums on varied timely subjects.

A LIMB FOR SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

CONSIDER A PIN FOR YOUR VEST

The individual student must decide for himself whether or not he would like to become a member of a national Greek-letter organization, an independent group or remain unaffiliated with either.

Membership in one of the organized groups is not essential in order to spend a full, well-rounded four years at Millsaps. The choice must be yours.

Millsaps' social organizations strive for high ideals and make a valuable contribution to the college and the individual in teaching students to live together. The following pages will better acquaint all newcomers with these Greek-letter organizations and independent groups.

Fraternities and sororities select students for membership during the first week of school, known as Rush Week. At the end of Rush Week these organizations offer "bids" to the students whom they have selected. Eligibility for membership in fraternities and sororities is governed by the following regulations:

A. General Conditions

1. Only bona fide regular students (carrying at least 12 hours) may be pledged.
2. No person not a bona fide student of Millsaps at initiation time can be initiated into a sorority or fraternity, except by permission of the Committee on Fraternities and Sororities.
3. A student must wait one week after his official registration before pledging.
4. Every student shall clear his eligibility with the Registrar before he can be initiated.

B. Scholastic Requirements

1. To be eligible for initiation into a sorority or fraternity, a student must have earned in a preceding semester as many as nine quality points and in the same semester as many as twelve semester hours of credit, and must not have fallen below "D" in more than one subject.
2. A student who drops a course after the end of the half semester shall receive an "F" for sorority or fraternity purposes as well as for academic averages.
3. The two terms of summer school combined shall count as one semester for sorority or fraternity purposes.

Before a student can be initiated, he must be a pledge for at least one semester. During this time he will become acquainted with the Greek alphabet and perform such tasks as the active members may require. Initiation takes place at the end of the semester; then the student is a full-fledged member, with all the rights and obligations of an active.

It does cost money to belong to a social organization; so consider this before making a decision.

SORORITIES

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

Emily Greener, President

The Panhellenic Council, composed of two members from each sorority, coordinates all activities of the four campus Greek-letter organizations for women.

Sorority Expenses

LOCAL CHAPTERS

Beta Sigma Omicron

The Beta Sigma Omicron Sorority (better known as the Beta Sigs or the BSO's) was founded at the University of Missouri in 1888. The Alpha Zeta Chapter of BSO came to Millsaps in 1926. They have an apartment on the campus.

The BSO's are known for their Ruby and Pink Ball, where the outstanding senior member of their chapter is chosen as "Pink Lady." Their colors are ruby and pink, and their flower is a red rose.

A tea for the high school seniors is an annual spring event. Martha Ann Selby of Charleston is president.

Chi Omega

The Chi Omega Sorority, founded at the University of Arkansas in 1895, has been on the campus since 1934. The Chi O house is set back from the North President Street extension. Here actives and pledges meet twice each month for house suppers.

Phi Mu

Phi Mu Sorority, nationally founded at Wesleyan College in 1852, was the first national sorority on the Millsaps campus.

The Phi Mu colors are rose and white. Their flower is the Enchantress Carnation. Annual events are the tea for high school seniors and the buffet suppers for each of the fraternities. Also they give an annual Enchantress Ball, to which the entire campus is invited.

Kappa Alpha

The organization of Kappa Alpha Fraternity on this campus dates back to the founding of the college. Nationally the K A's were founded at Washington and Lee in 1865. Fred Blumer of Sumrall is president of the local chapter.

The K A's celebrate all things pertaining to the South. They give their annual Black and White Ball right before the Christmas holidays. Also they sponsor an annual party for orphans.

The Kappa Sig Barn Dance is an annual event for the whole campus on graduation night.

Lambda Chi Alpha

Established at Millsaps in 1939, Lambda Chi Alpha originated at Boston College in 1909. Its members are more often referred to as the Lambda Chi's. Fraternity Row on Marshall Street is the location of their home, where Vernon Eppinette of Natchez leads the group.

Their main social event is a Purple, Green, and Gold Ball. At this time they announce the Lambda Chi Crescent Girl.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Also living on Marshall Street are the Pikes, led by Walter "Drip" Waldrop, of Florence. Pi Kappa Alpha was founded nationally at the University of Virginia in 1868, and locally in 1903.

The local chapter often sponsors charity projects. One year they adopted a war orphan. The Pike annual Cotton Ball is highlighted by the presentation of their queen, selected by a national personality, and her four maids.

Norsemen

Founded at Millsaps four years ago, the Norsemen is a comparatively new organization for independent men students. It is purely a social group, and its members enjoy many informal parties for themselves and their dates.

TRY YOUR WINGS IN SPORTS

Here's an introduction to our college's athletic program. Millsaps is a member of the Dixie Conference. All members of this conference operate on the same principle—no subsidization to athletics in any form. Play here is purely for the love of the game. A person may participate in the sports of his choice. Intercollegiate sports are football, basketball, baseball, track, and tennis.

For the person who feels that he has neither the time nor the ability to participate in intercollegiate sports, opportunities are offered in intramural sports. These sports are speedball (two-hand touch football), basketball, softball, tennis, and track.

To further their athletic experience, those interested in coaching careers may participate in their chosen sports and assist in arranging the intramural program.

MEN'S INTRAMURAL COUNCIL CONSTITUTION

Article I—Purpose

The purpose of the Intramural Council shall be to serve as a governing body to aid the faculty Athletic Committee and the Director of Physical Education in carrying out the college intramural program for men as set forth below.

BY-LAWS

I. GENERAL

A. Injuries. All injuries should be reported at once to the Director of Intramural Athletics. Millsaps College will not be responsible for any injuries incurred in intramural athletics.

B. Ties. A tie game shall count as one game won and one game lost in the league standings.

C. All-Stars. An All-Star team shall be picked for each major sport. Each organization will turn in to the Director of Intramural Athletics its choices by position for a first and second All-Opponent Team. On these teams there shall be for speedball nine (9) positions, softball nine (9) positions, and basketball five (5) positions. From these ballots the Intramural Council will select the teams.

D. Unsportsmanlike Conduct. If a player is banished from two contests for unsportsmanlike conduct, he will be disqualified from all intramural athletics for the remainder of the school year.

E. Schedule and Play-Offs. Major sports shall be played in two halves. The winner of the first half will play the winner of the second half one game for the over-all championship. The winner shall be the number one team; the loser, the number two team. The number three team (or, if the same team shall win both halves, the number two and number three teams) shall be selected by the Intramural Council on the basis of the over-all won-lost record in that particular sport. In the event of a tie in the championship game or any other difficulty in applying this rule, the Intramural Council shall decide on the method of awarding points and trophies.

F Officials: Officials will be provided by the Physical Education Department for all major sports. An approved list of officials will be selected by the Director and the Council. Whenever possible, officials will be appointed at least one week prior to a contest and will not be assigned to officiate in a game in which the organization with which they are affiliated is participating.

G Trophies. A trophy will be awarded to the winner of each sport. The organization with the highest number of points at the end of the intramural year shall be declared the champion and shall have the right to keep on display for the coming year the large "Traveling Trophy." In event the "Traveling Trophy" is won by the same organization three times, the trophy then becomes a permanent possession of that organization.

H Physical Education Credit. Each organization captain shall turn in to the Director of Intramural Athletics at the conclusion of the season in each sport the members of his organization who have participated in that sport and the number of contests in which each has participated.
